

And let the PEACE of GOD RULE IN YOUR HEARTS,
TO WHICH ALSO YOU
WERE CALLED IN ONE BODY;
AND BE thankful.

COLOSSIANS 3:15

Peace in the chaos of holiday shopping, cooking, and traveling can be found in a small corner of our minds. Memorize Colossians 3:15 and call it out of that small corner when needed. When you are out of time, out of patience, and out of money, call on the peace of God. When your best-laid plans for the perfect Christmas all fall through, call on the peace of God.

Verse 15 says, "...let the peace in you be evident in your dealings with others..." that includes those who try you and put your faith to the test, ESPECIALLY during the holidays.

"And be thankful;" are three of the most treasured words on our Christian journey. When we are at peace inwardly and outwardly, it is hard to be anything BUT thankful.

PRAYER

God of all peace, may we not forget You in this season. May we reflect You both inside and out to others. May we offer, in full confidence, Your heavenly peace to others. We love You! Amen.

CALL TO ACTION

Will you allow the peace in your heart to govern your actions today? Quiet your soul, be still when you feel rushed, and wait for His everlasting peace to pour over you.
