

OVERFLOW THAT TOUCHES OTHERS

Scripture

“Rivers of living water will flow from within them.”

— John 7:38 (NLT)

Overview

Overflow is never meant to stay contained. God fills you so He can flow through you. Your joy, healing, and peace are not just for you—they are meant to reach the world around you.

Overflow turns your life into ministry without striving. When joy flows naturally, people encounter Jesus through your presence. Your healed wounds become pathways of hope for others.

You are not a reservoir; you are a river. Stay connected to the Source, and God will direct the flow.

Reflection

1. Where might God want your overflow to flow?
2. Who could be touched by your joy or story?
3. How can you stay connected to the Source daily?

Prayer

Lord, thank You for filling my life. I offer myself as a vessel through which You can flow. Use my joy, my healing, and my story to bless others. Keep me connected to You so I may overflow continually. Amen.
