

NON-SACRIFICIAL COMMANDMENTS OF THE MOSAIC LAW

A multi-page biblical law chart following the traditional Maimonidean 613-commandment numbering. This edition contains 511 retained entries and omits regulations whose substance is an altar sacrifice, sacrificial offering, sacrificial animal, sacrificial blood/fat, sacrificial meal, or required sacrificial offering.

Scope note: This is a study/reference classification, not a claim that the Torah itself divides its laws into modern categories called “moral,” “civil,” “ceremonial,” and “sacrificial.” Borderline ritual laws are identified by the stated rule above. The Red Heifer purification laws are retained because they function here as purification laws rather than altar offerings. Command descriptions are concise paraphrases; Scripture references identify the source text.

APPENDIX: SACRIFICIAL LAWS OMITTED

The omitted Maimonidean numbers are: 137-138, 226, 336-367, 369-377, 379-380, 382-384, 386-419, 421, 423, and 426-442. These were excluded because their substance is a sacrifice/offering or a regulation governing sacrificial animals, altar rites, sacrificial food, blood, fat, or required offerings.

Primary enumeration: Maimonides' traditional 613-commandment count as commonly presented in Sefer HaMitzvot / Mishneh Torah summaries. The traditional total is 248 positive and 365 negative commandments. Different Jewish enumerators sometimes count individual precepts differently, so the Maimonidean number is preserved throughout rather than renumbering this reduced list.
