The Letters of Peter

A background image showing a pair of hands holding a quill pen and writing on a piece of parchment. The parchment is aged and has some text written on it, though it is not legible. The hands are positioned as if they are in the middle of writing.

I Peter 2:9-10

9 But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. 10 Once you were not a people, but now you are God's people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.

1 John 2:16

16 For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride of life—is not from the Father but is from the world.

Jeremiah 29:4–7

4 “Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the exiles whom I have sent into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon: 5 Build houses and live in them; plant gardens and eat their produce.

6 Take wives and have sons and daughters; take wives for your sons, and give your daughters in marriage, that they may bear sons and daughters; multiply there, and do not decrease. 7 But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the Lord on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare.

A close-up, slightly blurred photograph of a person's hands stitching a piece of light-colored fabric with a needle and thread. The hands are positioned in the upper half of the frame. Below the hands, a piece of paper with printed text is visible, partially covered by the fabric. The overall tone is warm and focused on the craft of sewing.
