“Some wandered in the wilderness, ... Hungry and thirsty, they nearly died. ‘LORD, help!’ they cried in their trouble, and He rescued them from their distress. ... Some sat in darkness and deepest gloom, imprisoned in iron chains of misery. ... ‘LORD, help!’ they cried in their trouble, and He saved them from their distress. ... He snapped their chains. Some were fools; they rebelled and suffered for their sins. ... ‘LORD, help!’ they cried in their trouble, and He saved them from their distress. He sent out His word and healed them, ... Some went off to sea in ships, ... Their ships were tossed to the heavens and plunged again to the depths; the sailors cringed in terror. ... ‘LORD, help!’ they cried in their trouble, and He saved them from their distress. He calmed the storm to a whisper and stilled the waves.”
