

Our faithful Father in heaven, our loving Lord, Jesus, and our Eternal Spirit of the Living God, we come to you this morning to ask that in our time together, You would make your presence known to us in such a way that would leave a lasting impression on our lives as individuals, and on the life of this, Your church.

God, if we have gathered for any other reason than to seek your face, to bow our hearts before you in worship, forgive us.

Lord, hear our cry, as we acknowledge our need for you to send fresh wind and fresh fire in our hearts. Hear our plea for Your stirring in our gathering, not only here in this room, but in this community, in this county, in this state, in this nation, and around the world.

Father, if there were ever a time in which we desperately needed a mighty movement of Your Spirit, it is now. We live in a world gone mad, where people are confused about gender, confused about the relationship of a husband and wife, confused about when life begins and confused about the very sanctity of life. We live in a time when right is called wrong and wrong is called right, and we desperately need the truth of Your Word to prevail and the power of Your Word to transform our hearts, our habits, and our homes!

Father, we acknowledge Your right to suspend our agendas, interrupt our plans and move as You sovereignly will. And, if you would choose to do so now, in this place, at this time, we will be careful to give You all praise and glory and honor,

Father, we have no other to ask for these things, we have no other course of action but to plead with you, and so now we wait upon You! Lord, we wait upon You to hear and answer our prayer, in Jesus' name,

Amen.
