

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

HIDDEN, BUT STILL HAPPENING

1. What is something God has spoken, promised, or stirred in your heart that you've kept hidden—and why? (Fear of judgment, timing, uncertainty, or not fully understanding it yet.)
2. How do you usually respond when God's promise feels delayed or invisible? What helps you stay confident that something can be hidden but still valid?
3. Where is God asking you to stay committed even though the “bloom” hasn't appeared yet? What would it look like to keep watering what feels dormant in this season?
4. Have you ever allowed other people's opinions or expectations to silence or derail God's calling on your life? What might change if you chose faithfulness over being understood?
5. Who is an “Elizabeth” in your life—or who could you become an Elizabeth to? How can you intentionally honor, encourage, and affirm what God is doing in someone else, even while it's still unfolding?
