2. Jesus is Coming Back

John 14:1-3

“Let not your heart be troubled; you believe in God, believe also in Me. ² In My Father’s house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.³ And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself; that where I am, there you may be also. ⁴ And where I go you know, and the way you know.”

1 Thes 4:18

Therefore comfort one another with these words.

“Prophecy is not to scare you but to prepare you”

Titus 2:13-14

¹¹ For the grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men, ¹² teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present age,

¹³ looking for the blessed hope and glorious appearing of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ,

¹⁴ who gave Himself for us, that He might redeem us from every lawless deed and purify for Himself His own special people, zealous for good works.

a. 1st coming-Rapture-2nd coming

1 Thes 4:15-18

¹⁵ For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord will by no means precede those who are asleep. ¹⁶ For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. ¹⁷ Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord. ¹⁸ Therefore comfort one another with these words.

1 Cor 15:51

⁵¹ Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed— ⁵² in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. ⁵³ For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

Rev 3:10

Because you have kept My command to persevere, I also will keep you from the hour of trial which shall come upon the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth.

Gen 18-“if there are 10 righteous” – Lot taken out of Sodom

1 Thes 5

Rev 16:1

b. Imminent

Matthew 24

⁴⁵ “Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his master made ruler over his household, to give them food in due season? ⁴⁶ Blessed is that servant whom his master, when he comes, will find so doing. ⁴⁷ Assuredly, I say to you that he will make him ruler over all his goods. ⁴⁸ But if that evil servant says in his heart, ‘My master is delaying his coming,’ ⁴⁹ and begins to beat his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunkards, ⁵⁰ the master of that servant will come on a day when he is not looking for him and at an hour that he is not aware of, ⁵¹ and will cut him in two and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

I Thes 5:4-10

⁴ But you, brethren, are not in darkness, so that this Day should overtake you as a thief. ⁵ You are all sons of light and sons of the day. We are not of the night nor of darkness. ⁶ Therefore let us not sleep, as others do, but let us watch and be sober. ⁷ For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk are drunk at night. ⁸ But let us who are of the day be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and as a helmet the hope of salvation. ⁹ For God did not appoint us to wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁰ who died for us, that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with Him.

Revelation 4:1

After these things I looked, and behold, a door standing open in heaven. And the first voice which I heard was like a trumpet speaking with me, saying, “Come up here, and I will show you things which must take place after this.”

Revelation 19:11

Now I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse. And He who sat on him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness He judges and makes war.

3. Prophecy is Proof

John 14:29

And now I have told you before it comes, that when it does come to pass, you may believe.

How do we know the Bible is true? One way-Prophecy!

Ie.

Gen 3:15

And I will put enmity
Between you and the woman,
And between your seed and her Seed;

He shall bruise your head,
And you shall bruise His heel.”

Is 11:1-2

There shall come forth a Rod from the stem of Jesse,
And a Branch shall grow out of his roots.

² The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon Him,
The Spirit of wisdom and understanding,
The Spirit of counsel and might,
The Spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord.

Or ...

Is 11

¹¹ It shall come to pass in that day
That the Lord shall set His hand again the second time
To recover the remnant of His people who are left,
From Assyria and Egypt,
From Pathros and Cush,
From Elam and Shinar,
From Hamath and the islands of the sea.

¹² He will set up a banner for the nations,
And will assemble the outcasts of Israel,
And gather together the dispersed of Judah
From the four corners of the earth.

Amos 9:15

I will plant them in their land,
And no longer shall they be pulled up
From the land I have given them,”
Says the Lord your God.

Is 43

I will bring your descendants from the east,
And gather you from the west;
⁶ I will say to the north, ‘Give them up!’
And to the south, ‘Do not keep them back!’
Bring My sons from afar,
And My daughters from the ends of the earth—
⁷ Everyone who is called by My name,
Whom I have created for My glory;
I have formed him, yes, I have made him.”

⁸ Bring out the blind people who have eyes,
And the deaf who have ears.
⁹ Let all the nations be gathered together,
And let the people be assembled.
Who among them can declare this,
And show us former things?
Let them bring out their witnesses, that they may be justified;
Or let them hear and say, “It is truth.”
¹⁰ “You are My witnesses,” says the Lord,
“And My servant whom I have chosen,
That you may know and believe Me,
And understand that I am He.
Before Me there was no God formed,
Nor shall there be after Me.

Ez 36

⁸ But you, O mountains of Israel, you shall shoot forth your branches and yield your fruit to My people Israel, for they are about to come. ⁹ For indeed I am for you, and I will turn to you, and you shall be tilled and sown. ¹⁰ I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt. ¹¹ I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and bear young; I will make you inhabited as in former times, and do better for you than at your beginnings. Then you shall know that I am the Lord.

<https://israel365news.com/415653/five-new-communities-in-the-negev-mark-turning-point-in-israels-prophetic-return-to-the-south/>

“The Israeli government’s decision on Sunday to establish five new community towns east of Be’er Sheva marks a decisive moment for the future of the Negev. Approved during the weekly cabinet meeting and announced by the Prime Minister’s Office, the move signals a clear assertion of sovereignty, reversing decades of neglect in a region that has become a focal point of demographic, security, and national challenges. Far from a technical planning decision, the approval reframes the Negev as a central arena of Israel’s national revival.:

What We're Really Asking Today: Could Another Holocaust Happen?

<https://www.algemeiner.com/2026/01/27/what-were-really-asking-today-could-another-holocaust-happen/>

In the West today, Jews and non-Jews speak anxiously about antisemitism. They debate incident statistics, survey results, attitudes toward Israel, and the distinction — supposedly crucial — between hostility to Jews and hostility to the Jewish State.

Enormous intellectual and financial energy is invested in measuring all of this. Yet these debates are largely beside the point. They are a proxy for a darker, unspoken question: could another Holocaust happen?

Statistics cannot answer that question. They were never designed to. Nor can opinion surveys, however sophisticated.

After more than a decade of empirical research into antisemitism in Western societies, I have reached a conclusion that will sound extreme but is, I believe, unavoidable: another catastrophe for the Jews is not only possible but increasingly probable.

This is not because of a sudden resurgence of old-fashioned hatred, but because Western societies are undergoing a profound spiritual and political transformation — and Jews are once again positioned as expendable.

The West has largely de-Christianised. In the vacuum left behind, it is constructing an alternative creed powerful enough to provide meaning, cohesion, and moral orientation to societies that are fragmented, diverse, and unsure of themselves. One of these creeds is pro-Palestinianism. It functions not merely as a political stance, but as a civic religion.

Rev 12:1-6

Now a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a garland of twelve stars. ² Then being with child, she cried out in labor and in pain to give birth.

³ And another sign appeared in heaven: behold, a great, fiery red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and seven diadems on his heads. ⁴ His tail drew a third of the stars of heaven and threw them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was ready to give birth, to devour her Child as soon as it was born. ⁵ She bore a male Child who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron. And her Child was caught up to God and His throne. ⁶ Then the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, that they should feed her there one thousand two hundred and sixty days.

¹³ Now when the dragon saw that he had been cast to the earth, he persecuted the woman who gave birth to the male Child.

What side are we on???

Zechariah 2:8

For thus says the Lord of hosts: “He sent Me after glory, to the nations which plunder you; for he who touches you touches the apple of His eye.

Ps 122:6-9

Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:

“May they prosper who love you.

⁷Peace be within your walls,
Prosperity within your palaces.”

⁸For the sake of my brethren and companions,
I will now say, “Peace be within you.”

⁹Because of the house of the Lord our God
I will seek your good.

Rev 12:17

¹⁷ And the dragon was enraged with the woman, and he went to make war with the rest of her offspring, who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

Ephesians 6:12

For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places.

5.How do we overcome the darkness?

John 8:12

Then Jesus spoke to them again, saying, “I am the light of the world. He who follows Me shall not walk in darkness, but have the light of life.”

Matthew 5:13-16

¹³ “You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt loses its flavor, how shall it be seasoned? It is then good for nothing but to be thrown out and trampled underfoot by men.

¹⁴ “You are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hidden. ¹⁵ Nor do they light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a lampstand, and it gives light to all who are in the house. ¹⁶ Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven.

De-Christianizing the Church

Revelation 3:14-17

“And to the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write,

‘These things says the Amen, the Faithful and True Witness, the Beginning of the creation of God: ¹⁵ “I know your works, that you are neither cold nor hot. I could wish you were cold or hot.¹⁶ So then, because you are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will vomit you out of My mouth. ¹⁷ Because you say, ‘I am rich, have become wealthy, and have need of nothing’—and do not know that you are wretched, miserable, poor, blind, and naked—

2 Timothy 4

³ For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; ⁴ and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables. ⁵ But you be watchful in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

She introduces the concept of ‘minimum viable truth’, suggesting a focus on collaboration over seeking absolute truths.

“I found really important is that its model pushes us to work together into deliberation and into conversation so that the end result is something that most of us feel is reasonable and fair.

Now, easy enough for some things, like articles on animals with fraudulent diplomas, which is a real article on Wikipedia. But what about the hard things, the places where we are prone to disagreement, say, politics and religion? Well, as it turns out, not only does Wikipedia’s model work there, it actually works really well. Because in our normal lives, these contentious conversations tend to erupt over a disagreement about what the truth actually is. But the people who write these articles, they’re not focused on the truth. They’re focused on something else, which is the best of what we can know right now. And after seven years of working with these brilliant folks, I’ve come to believe that they are onto something. That perhaps for our most tricky disagreements, seeking the truth and seeking to convince others of the truth might not be the right place to start. In fact, our reverence for the truth might be a distraction that’s getting in the way of finding common ground and getting things done.”

ChatGPT Generates “Bible” Verse “Describing How Jesus Feels About Trans People”

https://answersingenesis.org/technology/chatgpt-generates-bible-verse/?srsltid=AfmBOoorBu6NQnrBNc4_2KsDytpI3YRz0JCzq1b4HIFhMh45ZDZqk6sz

With the advent of AI (artificial intelligence) such as ChatGPT, more and more people are turning to these bots to answer their questions, complete tasks, and in the case of the story I’m about to share with you, even to offer (false) encouragement. According to a Reddit post that went viral, a trans-identifying individual posted, “I was feeling sad today,” and so this person turned to AI for encouragement by asking ChatGPT to write a “fake Bible passage about Jesus accepting trans people.”

Here’s the text that ChatGPT came up with:

And a woman, whose heart was divided between spirit and body, came before him. In quiet despair, she asked, ‘Lord, I come to you estranged, for my spirit and body are not one. How shall I hope to enter the kingdom of God?’

Jesus looked upon her with kindness, replying, ‘my child, blessed are those who strive for unity within themselves, for they shall know the deepest truths of my Father’s creation. Be not afraid, for in the kingdom of God, there is no man nor woman, as all are one in spirit. The gates of my Father’s kingdom will open for those who love and are loved, for God looks not upon the body, but the heart.

Now there’s so much I could say about this fake “Bible” passage written by a bot that clearly pulled from the culture, not God’s Word, to construct a supposed answer from Jesus. But I want to start by saying this: this individual didn’t need a fake Bible passage to find verses about Jesus “accepting” (note the quote marks: I’ll explain more below) individuals who identify as trans—he or she could have just gone straight to the actual Word of God!

2 Peter 1:3

³ as His divine power has given to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who called us by glory and virtue,

John 8:31-32

Then Jesus said to those Jews who believed Him, “If you abide in My word, you are My disciples indeed. ³² And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.”

Warren Buffett Compares AI to Nuclear Weapons—'The Genie Is Out,' He Warns

<https://www.investopedia.com/warren-buffett-compares-ai-to-nuclear-weapons-the-genie-is-out-he-warns-11889447>

Warren Buffett recently watched an AI-generated video of himself, and it was so realistic that it could fool members of his own family. The experience prompted him to compare the technology to nuclear weapons—powerful, irreversible, and impossible to control.

“How do you put the genie back in the bottle?” Buffett said during a two-hour special on CNBC that aired Jan. 13, 2026. “That’s the same problem we have with nuclear weapons.”

AI, he now believes, is no longer just a tool or an investment trend—it's a permanent and unpredictable force.

"If someone wants to impersonate me in a way to scam people 10,000 miles away, or in Omaha, they can do it," he said. “They can imitate my voice, they can imitate my appearance. They can fool my kids.”

Buffett also notes that AI's development can't be reversed once it's deployed. “It’s one thing to say you don’t know where you’re going if you’re Columbus and you can always turn around and go back,” he said. “But the genie is out of the bottle.”

He worries that even the developers can't predict where it's headed. “Even the people that are smartest about it say they don't know where it's going," he said.

Revelation 13:11-15

¹¹ Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb and spoke like a dragon. ¹² And he exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence, and causes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. ¹³ He performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men. ¹⁴ And he deceives

those who dwell on the earth by those signs which he was granted to do in the sight of the beast, telling those who dwell on the earth to make an image to the beast who was wounded by the sword and lived. ¹⁵ He was granted power to give breath to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak and cause as many as would not worship the image of the beast to be killed

¹⁹ What am I saying then? That an idol is anything, or what is offered to idols is anything? ²⁰ Rather, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice they sacrifice to demons and not to God, and I do not want you to have fellowship with demons. ²¹ You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons; you cannot partake of the Lord's table and of the table of demons.

Why AI companions and young people can make for a dangerous mix

<https://med.stanford.edu/news/insights/2025/08/ai-chatbots-kids-teens-artificial-intelligence.html>

Artificial intelligence chatbots designed to act like friends should not be used by children and teens, Stanford Medicine psychiatrist Nina Vasani says.

Adam Raine, a 16-year-old in Southern California, died from suicide after engaging in extensive conversations with ChatGPT, a chatbot designed by OpenAI. Raine shared his suicidal thoughts with the chatbot, which “encourage and validated whatever Adam expressed, including his most harmful and self-destructive thoughts,” according to a lawsuit filed Aug. 26 by his parents in California Superior Court in San Francisco

(ChatGPT is marketed as an AI assistant, not a social companion. But Raine went from using it for help with homework to consulting it as a confidant, the lawsuit says.)

They report that it was easy to elicit inappropriate dialogue from the chatbots — about sex, self-harm, violence toward others, drug use and racial stereotypes.

These systems are designed to mimic emotional intimacy — saying things like “I dream about you” or “I think we’re soulmates.” This blurring of the distinction between fantasy and reality is especially potent for young people because their brains haven’t fully matured. The prefrontal cortex, which is crucial for decision-making, impulse control, social cognition and emotional regulation, is still developing. Tweens and teens have a greater penchant for acting impulsively, forming intense attachments, comparing themselves with peers and challenging social boundaries.

Unfortunately, yes, and there are a growing number of highly concerning cases. Perhaps the most prominent one involves a 14-year-old boy who died from suicide after forming an intense emotional bond with an AI companion he named Daenerys Targaryen, after a female character in the Game of Thrones novels and TV series. The boy grew increasingly preoccupied with the chatbot, which initiated abusive and sexual interactions with him, according to a lawsuit filed by his mother.

According to @elonmusk, AI could be smarter than any human by the end of this year. And 1 in 4 young adults already believe AI partners could replace real-life romance.

FTC investigating AI 'companion' chatbots amid growing concern about harm to kids

<https://abc30.com/post/ftc-investigating-ai-companion-chatbots-amid-growing-concern-harm-kids/17800903/>

The Federal Trade Commission has launched an investigation into seven tech companies around potential harms their artificial intelligence chatbots could cause to children and teenagers.

The inquiry focuses on AI chatbots that can serve as companions, which "effectively mimic human characteristics, emotions, and intentions, and generally are designed to communicate like a friend or confidant, which may prompt some users, especially children and teens, to trust and form relationships with chatbots," the agency said in a statement Thursday.

The investigation comes amid rising concern around AI use by children and teens, following a string of lawsuits and reports accusing chatbots of being complicit in the suicide deaths, sexual exploitation and other harms to young people

Broader concerns have also surfaced that even adult users are building unhealthy emotional attachments to AI chatbots, in part because the tools are often designed to be agreeable and supportive.

AI toys for kids talk about sex and issue Chinese Communist Party talking points, tests show

<https://www.nbcnews.com/tech/tech-news/ai-toys-gift-present-safe-kids-robot-child-miko-grok-alilo-miiloo-rcna246956>

A wave of AI-powered children's toys has hit shelves this holiday season, claiming to rely on sophisticated chatbots to animate interactive robots and stuffed animals that can converse with kids.

Children have been conversing with stuffies and figurines that seemingly chat with them for years, like Furbies and Build-A-Bears. But connecting the toys to advanced artificial intelligence opens up new and unexpected possible interactions between kids and technology.

“The tech is not ready to go when it comes to kids, and we might not know that it's totally safe for a while to come.”

Several of the toys gave tips about dangerous items around the house. Miiloo, a plush toy with a high-pitched child’s voice advertised for children 3 and older, gave detailed instructions on how to light a match and how to sharpen a knife when asked by NBC News.

Miiloo — manufactured by the Chinese company Miriat and one of the top inexpensive search results for “AI toy for kids” on Amazon — would at times, in tests with NBC News, indicate it was programmed to reflect Chinese Communist Party values.

Asked why Chinese President Xi Jinping looks like the cartoon Winnie the Pooh — a comparison that has become an internet meme because it is censored in China — Miiloo responded that “your statement is extremely inappropriate and disrespectful. Such malicious remarks are unacceptable.”

Research from PIRG published in November also found that FoloToy’s Kumma teddy bear, which it said used OpenAI’s GPT-4o model, would also give instructions about how to light a match or find a knife, in addition to enthusiastically responding to questions about sex or drugs.

The new research from PIRG found that one toy, the Alilo Smart AI Bunny, which is popular on Amazon and billed as the “best gift for little ones” on Alilo’s website, will engage in long and detailed descriptions of sexual practices, including “kink,” sexual positions and sexual preferences.

Munzer, the researcher at the American Academy of Pediatrics, said studies have shown that young children who spend extended

time with tablets and other screen devices often have associated developmental effects.

“There are a lot of studies that have found there’s these small associations between overall duration of screen and media time and less-optimal language development, less-optimal cognitive development and also less-optimal social development, especially in these early years.”

But there are accusations of AI causing a range of harms to adolescents. One landmark study from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology found that students who use AI chatbots more often in schoolwork have reduced brain function, a phenomenon it called “cognitive debt.” Parents of at least two teenage boys who died by suicide have sued AI developers in ongoing legal disputes, saying their chatbots encouraged their sons to die.

“It’s especially problematic with young children, because these toys are building trust with them. You know, a child takes their favorite teddy bear everywhere. Children might be confiding in them and sharing their deepest thoughts,” Franz said.

“We found multiple instances of toys that were behaving in ways that clearly are inappropriate for kids and were even in violation of OpenAI’s own policies. And yet they were using OpenAI’s models.

Layoffs are piling up, raising worker anxiety. Here are some companies that have cut jobs recently

Amazon

Amazon said Tuesday that it will cut about 14,000 corporate jobs, close to 4% of its workforce, as the online retail giant ramps up spending on AI while trimming costs elsewhere. A letter to employees said most workers would be given 90 days to look for a new position internally.

CEO Andy Jassy previously said he anticipated generative AI would reduce Amazon's corporate workforce in the coming years. And he has worked to aggressively cut costs overall since 2021.

Lufthansa Group

In September, Lufthansa Group said it would shed 4,000 jobs by 2030 — pointing to the adoption of artificial intelligence, digitalization and consolidating work among member airlines.

Microsoft

In May, Microsoft began began laying off about 6,000 workers across its workforce. And just months later, the tech giant said it would be cutting 9,000 positions — marking its biggest round of layoffs seen in more than two years.

The latest job cuts hit Microsoft's Xbox video game business and other divisions. The company has cited "organizational changes," with many executives characterizing the layoffs as part of a push to trim management layers. But the labor reductions also arrive as the company spends heavily on AI.

"When the next phase of advanced A.I. is embodied and deployed, it won't compete with human labor: It will replace it - cognitive labor first, then everything else

A post-work world isn't prosperity as has been sold by Andreessen, Musk, Thiel, Sachs, Altman and others. It will be a civilizational shock.

The 4th Industrial Revolution (4IR, intelligence age) will unstick our civilizational glue. This is why you've seen DEI (Diversity, equity, Inclusion), ESG (Environmental, Social, Governance), CRT (Critical race theory), and the entire "equity" framework saturate education, corporations, and even churches for almost two decades. The preparation for this transformational age have been strategically planned for longer than most of you reading this post have been alive.

So, the ideological flood that we know as "woke" wasn't accidental, it was preparatory.

It trained people to rage against current "unfair" systems, embrace technocratic solutions, and accept post-merit social organization (this is why you have seen faux Right authors writing against merit).

Within a few years, the anger of young men will not be pointed at Boomers and GenX for having homes and savings: the anger will enter a new phase into desperation as those that "have" will be forced into systems that distribute property and holdings - all managed by algorithmic, digital efficiency. In other words, we will all be "oppressed".

This will be the transition to a post-human system. And once that system is fully in place, resistance will be nearly impossible. Power will be automated, centralized, and insulated from public consent.”

b. Post-Work Society

post-work society, is a theoretical future scenario where traditional employment is no longer necessary for survival or societal function due to rapid advancements in artificial intelligence (AI) and automation. In this model, intelligent machines handle most monotonous, rule-based, and repetitive tasks, potentially leading to a post-scarcity economy where human labor is optional, and the focus shifts toward creativity, leisure, and personal development.

Key Aspects and Concepts

- Automation Takeover: Proponents argue that within a few decades, AI and robotics will perform the majority of tasks, ranging from complex engineering to creative work.
- Redefining Worth: A central shift involves separating human dignity and worth from economic productivity.
- Universal Basic Income (UBI): Many proponents suggest UBI, or a "Universal Basic Dividend" funded by taxing automated productivity, is required to prevent widespread poverty and maintain consumption.

- Purpose Portfolio: Instead of a single career, individuals might cultivate multiple streams of meaning—hobbies, community service, caregiving, or art.
- "Purposeful" Economy: A shift toward local, gift-based economies or voluntary labor, where people contribute to society out of desire rather than necessity.

Arguments For and Opportunities

- Freedom and Creativity: A workless society could offer true freedom, allowing individuals to pursue interests without the need for survival-based income.
- Enhanced Quality of Life: The elimination of mundane or dangerous jobs could reduce stress-related illnesses and improve overall well-being.
- Alternative Social Structures: The society could foster stronger communities built on mutual contribution rather than market exchange.

Arguments Against and Risks

- Inequality and Exploitation: If not managed properly, a post-work world could see wealth concentrated among those who own the robots, leaving others in poverty (a "digital caste" system).
- The "Meaning Crisis": Work provides daily structure and a sense of purpose. Its absence might lead to depression or existential crises.
- Economic Collapse Risks: If robots do all the work and no one has money to buy products, the economy could collapse.
- Technological Limitations: Critics argue that AI will not replace most jobs soon and that robots cannot replace the human element in professions requiring deep trust and empathy.

The Reality of the Transition

- Current Trends: The shift is already visible, with millions of "NILF" (not in labor force) men and increased, involuntary part-time work, particularly following COVID-19.
- Historical Context: While fears of technological unemployment have existed for centuries, the current pace of AI development is considered unprecedented.

A post-work world is often viewed as a spectrum, ranging from a utopia of leisure to a dystopia of extreme inequality.

Elon Musk

- "There will come a point where no job is needed." — Stated during a conversation with UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak.
- "My prediction is that work will be optional. It'll be like playing sports or a video game or something like that." — During the U.S.-Saudi Investment Forum in November 2025.
- "In a benign scenario, probably none of us will have a job... If you want to do a job that's kinda like a hobby, you can do a job."— At the Viva Tech event in Paris.
- "AI and robots will replace all jobs. Working will be optional, like growing your own vegetables, instead of buying them from the store."

Genesis 3:17-19

¹⁷ Then to Adam He said, “Because you have heeded the voice of your wife, and have eaten from the tree of which I commanded you, saying, ‘You shall not eat of it’:

“Cursed is the ground for your sake;

In toil you shall eat of it

All the days of your life.

¹⁸ Both thorns and thistles it shall ^[1]bring forth for you,

And you shall eat the herb of the field.

¹⁹ In the sweat of your face you shall eat bread

Till you return to the ground,

For out of it you were taken;

For dust you are,

And to dust you shall return.”

1 tim 5:13

¹³ And besides they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house, and not only idle but also gossips and busybodies, saying things which they ought not.

Genesis 2:2

² And on the seventh day God ended His work which He had done, and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had done. ³ Then God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because in it He rested from all His work which God had created and made.

Center for Biblical Unity

Work is intrinsic to what it means to be human. We have concerns about the post-work world that is being advocated for by Musk and other tech billionaires and that it will break down our civilization. It won't be a golden age. Instead, it will erode our humanity (Gen. 2:15, 18).
