Doctor: "I see you're over a month late for your appointment. Don't you know that nervous disorders require prompt and regular attention? What is your excuse?"

Patient: "I was just following your orders, Doc."

Doctor: "Following my orders? What are you talking about? I gave you no such order."

Patient: "You told me to avoid people who irritate me."

Unfortunately, we don't always have the option of avoiding people who irritate us, people who hurt us, people who offend us. In fact, sometimes those who irritate us the most are found right in our home (or in our church building). So how should we deal with them?

Milton Jones has written a wonderful book entitled "How to Love Someone You Can't Stand". In this book, Jones lists six godly principles which are derived from Romans 12:

- (1) Manage Your mouth -- Bless and don't curse (Rom. 12:14)
- (2) Put yourself in the other person's place and try to understand their feelings, thoughts and position (Rom. 12:15)
- (3) Never, never, never take revenge (Rom. 12:17)
- (4) Plan ahead to do something beautiful (Rom. 12:17)
- (5) Don't just win the war, win the peace (Rom. 12:18)
- (6) Make room for God (Rom. 12:19)

The only way to overcome evil is with good (Rom. 12:21). It is never easy to respond to those who do us wrong in a way that is godly, but it is only by following the example of Jesus Christ that we can truly have an influence on the world around us.

When we love someone, we cannot stand... this is following the example Jesus gave us. Jesus never sinned and never told a lie. He did not insult or threaten those who opposed Him. No, He let God take care of Him in the same way we will be taken care of, when we run to God not away.
