

Unfulfilled: The disappointment of delight and the worthlessness of wealth

Selfish pursuits are not fulfilling.

Selfish pursuits are not always the result of self control.

Seeking fulfillment through delight will always disappoint.

Delight will never satisfy because it's gone as soon it gets here.

Wealth is worthless when it comes to satisfying your heart and life.

1. Wealth, like power, attracts many "friends"
2. Wealth leaves you empty, whereas work brings satisfaction.
3. Wealth doesn't go with you when you die, and you have no control over how it's used when you're gone.

It is better to have never lived at all than to have all the world offers and still not be satisfied.

Wealth and pleasure are acceptable adornments to a life that is found in Christ.

Contentment and Joy are gifts of God's grace to those who are saved by faith in Jesus Christ.

We know that our true delight is found through denial and our wealth is in the riches of Christ.
