

Redeemer: Growing, grumbling, and going with God.
Exodus 15:22-18:27

Following God requires listening to His Word rather than people.

Following God requires doing what is right in His eyes rather than what is right in the eyes of people.

Your current destination is preparation for what comes next.

The word grumble is the combination of two Hebrew words that mean “growl” and “rebellion.”

Where there is a lack of faith there is an abundance of grumbling.

Grumbling is judgment and is born from flesh and fear.

Grumbling is how we demonstrate our distrust of God’s plans and His ways.

Grumbling against your circumstances is the same thing as grumbling against God, because God is the author of your circumstances.

God promises daily provision because His plan is for us to be daily disciples.

God tells us to remember what He has done in the past to help us stay faithful in the present.

God’s plans require dependence on Him and one another.

The success of God’s plan depends on His power and the surrender of His people.

God’s redeeming work results in the praise of those who hear the story!

The success of God’s kingdom depends on His presence not our plans.

God’s kingdom grows through multiplication, not addition.
