

The Enemy	Jesus
1. One invitation led humanity into death. 2. Eat. Consume. Indulge. Pleasure in the world. You deserve more. 3. Take what you crave and eat whatever satisfies you - whatever is right in front of you- if it pleases the flesh have it! 4. Trust yourself. Become your own authority 5. God's rules stop you from living your best life. 6. He is against you. How can you call yourself a christian? 7. Your desires define you. 8. Your sin defines you. 9. Independence is freedom. Follow your heart. 10. This invitation begins with craving and ends in slavery and death. 11. One tree produced shame & death	1. The other leads humanity into life. 2. Come. Abide. Remember. Feed on my Word. 3. Remember me. I satisfy you. Anything else is temporary. You will never be hungry. You will never thirst. 4. Trust me. Trust my authority. I am all knowing and all powerful. I love you. 5. My design is good for you and protects you. 6. I am for you. Working all things out for your good and my glory. I call you my own. 7. I define you. You are mine. 8. You are forgiven. All I see is righteousness. (Jesus' imputed righteousness) 9. Your heart, your emotions make a bad navigation system. Surrender is freedom. Follow me. 10. This invitation begins with craving and ends with freedom and life 11. This tree (the cross) produced reconciliation & life

There is goodness in the garden
Where God is breathing out His glory
Where the river sings the story of
The beauty He has shared with us

There's a serpent in the garden
He's chasing down creation
He is twisting every craving
With the fruit of fear, and he says

Take, take and eat

Three little words that turned
The whole world upside down

There is silence at the table
They recount the ages past
Over centuries of wandering
And longing for the Lamb of God

There is sadness in the Savior
He cries to tell of what's to come
He pours a cup of wine
And as He breaks the bread, He says

Take, take and eat

Three little words that turned
The whole world upside down

The banquet doors are swinging wide
The Bread of Heaven is alive
The grave, it howls of hunger pains
The Bread of Heaven breathes again

There's forgiveness by the fire
Blazing on the shoreline
They can't deny the Lord's alive
Their hearts reviving with the rising Son

Messiah murdered on the mountain
And now He feasts within their midst
The One who passed away's alive
And now He's passing plates, and He says

Take, take and eat

Three little words that turned
The whole world upside down
