

Grades 4-5 • Lesson 57

God Gives the Ten Commandments

Exodus 20:1-17; Galatians 3:24

Use the word bank to help you fill in the crossword puzzle with the meanings of each of the Ten Commandments.

God
Life
Only
Respect
Truth

Content
Marriage
Parents
Time
Words

Across

2. Worship _____ God.
5. Put _____ first.
6. _____ other people's things.
8. Obey God's design for _____.
9. Tell the _____.

Down

1. Honor God with your _____.
3. Respect human _____.
4. Be _____ with what you have.
7. Obey your _____.
10. Take _____ for God.

Name _____

Memory Verse

Use a mirror to read the colored words below. Then fill them in the correct blanks to complete the verse.

.tqurpE .tdpud .bod .zbiow
zbp .p19vslz

And God spoke all these

_____ ,

saying, "I am the LORD

your _____ , who

you out of the land of

_____ , out of the house of _____ .

You shall have no other _____ before me.

Exodus 20:1-3

What You Heard In the Word

- The Ten Commandments tell us how to respect God and treat others.
- The Ten Commandments show us our sin and need for a Savior—Jesus.

OutWord For Family Discussion

Suppose a friend says to you, “I don’t think God would punish me. I’m sure that I’ll go to heaven when I die. I haven’t done anything terrible, like kill someone!” What could you say?

Most people haven’t committed a sin like murder, but it’s wrong to compare ourselves to others to determine what sin is. Instead, we should see what God calls sin in the Bible. He gave Ten Commandments that show how he wants us to live. These commands include putting God first, speaking his name with respect, obeying our parents, telling the truth, and being content with the things we have. God says in his Word that when we break even one of the commandments it is as though we have broken all of them. If we’re honest, we’ve all broken one or more of these commands. How many times have you disobeyed your parents, lied, or wanted something that someone else has? God’s laws show us that we all sin. It doesn’t matter if we’re breaking different commands than someone else; the point is that we’re all guilty of breaking God’s command to be holy. That’s why God sent his Son, Jesus, to die and take the punishment for our sins. If we could be good enough, he wouldn’t have sent Jesus to die.

HomeWord For Parents

Within three months of leaving Egypt, the Israelites came to Mount Sinai in the wilderness of the Sinai Peninsula. It was here that God called to Moses and declared his covenant to his people (Exodus 19:1–5). God revealed his holiness and power through a thick cloud, lightning, thunder, and quaking on the mountain. Then he delivered the Ten Commandments to the people (Exodus 20). God also gave other laws (Exodus 21–23), which Moses told the people and then wrote down (Exodus 24:3–4).

This law, given in the center of God’s glory, is a revelation to all men that God demands perfection. God’s moral law works to reveal to us that we fall desperately short of God’s standard. But as sinners, we see our own ways as right (Proverbs 21:2). We attempt to justify our sin by claiming to be better than others. This thinking can only lead to death and destruction. Our own deeds will never make us righteous before a holy God—they are like a polluted garment (Isaiah 64:6), and we are condemned as lawbreakers. That is the bad news.

But once we realize that we are condemned by the law, our mouths are stopped, and we have no defense (Romans 3:19). The law then acts as a guardian, or teacher, to bring us to Christ (Galatians 3:24). We understand that we fall short of God’s holy standard and are subject to the judgment of God. This realization drives us to Christ, who took the punishment for sinners. That is the good news! God has provided a way of salvation through Christ (John 3:16).