Memory Verse

Therefore the LORD waits to be gracious to you, and therefore he exalts himself to show mercy to you. For the LORD is a God of justice; blessed are all those who wait for him.

Isaiah 30:18

What You Heard In the Word

- King Zedekiah and the people of Judah would not listen to Jeremiah's warnings to turn back to God. Instead, they punished Jeremiah because they didn't like his messages.
- God brought judgment on Judah when the Babylonians destroyed Jerusalem. They burned the temple of God, killed many people, and took others to Babylon, far from home.

OutWord For Family Discussion

Suppose your friend can't believe the people of Judah would ever turn away from God to worship false gods. After all, God had done so much for them. What could you tell him?

Well, the people of Judah started out by worshipping God alone. But soon, they thought the people from other nations were doing the right thing, so they turned away from God and began to worship the false gods of the people around them. It really isn't that unbelievable. We don't worship idols of false gods like they did back then, but we do put other things in our lives above God. We have to be careful to put God first above things like sports, friends, clothes, music, or entertainment. Anything in our lives that we love more than God is disobedience to God's command to worship him alone.
