

Real World Skit

Two students eventually recognize that they are complaining.

Student 1: A ham sandwich AGAIN? (makes face)

Student 2: What's wrong with a ham sandwich? It looks good to me.

Student 1: My mom has given me the same sandwich for lunch THREE days in a row!

Student 2: Don't you like ham?

Student 1: Well, I DID like it, but not for three days straight. Ick! I think she's trying to use up the ham before it goes bad or something.

Student 2: She's probably like my mom and doesn't want to waste food. Nothing wrong with that.

Student 1: Easy for you to say! You got to buy lunch today.

Student 2: Believe me, this cafeteria food is terrible. They took away all the good stuff because it's not "healthy."

Student 1: So, what did you get?

Student 2: Let's see, there's mushy orange stuff. I think it's supposed to be cooked carrots. It looks more like carrot soup!

Student 1: Ha-ha! I've got crunchy raw carrots. They're better than cooked carrots.

Student 2: Oh no! The nasty carrot water soaked my roll!

Student 1: Well, it should be easy to chew now.

Student 2: You're NOT helping!

Student 1: Hey, what kind of meat is that?

Student 2: I think it's supposed to be chicken fingers.

Student 1: Looks more like chicken toes!

Student 2: Stop! You're making me choke on my food. How does your ham sandwich seem now that you've seen my lunch?

Student 1: Not so bad, actually. Thanks!

Student 2: Happy to help.

Student 1: You know, I feel kind of bad for complaining about my lunch.

Print three copies, two for the students and one for you.

Student 2: Oh? How come? Because mine is worse?

Student 1: No, it's not that. I was just thinking about the kids in our school that don't have enough to eat. They would probably give anything to have lunches like ours.

Student 2: You know, you're right. We should be thankful we even get lunch.

Student 1: Yeah, isn't that why we pray before we eat, to thank God for our food?

Student 2: Hmm. Now that I think about it, it seems pretty ungrateful to thank God and then complain about what we just thanked him for.

Student 1: Uh huh. Maybe we should pray again and apologize to God for complaining about what he's given us.

Student 2: I agree.

Student 1: Then we can enjoy our ham sandwich and carrot soup!

Student 2: And don't forget the chicken toes!