Discussion Questions:

- Philosophically speaking, what would be amiss with an all-powerful and perfect God who could only manifest one quality; i.e. love and not justice?
- What are the obvious reasons someone would feel comfortable with a god who is only love?
- God is love, but He is also more than that. Have you had a conversation like this with anyone? How did it go?
- How would you describe the need people have to hear a message of repentance (and God's justice)?
