

The Gospels end with the resurrection because the resurrection is the pinnacle of the Gospel itself

- Jesus is resurrected by the power of God.
  - The resurrection is affirmation of God's approval of the sin sacrifice of Jesus on the cross.
- The church, just as Jesus promised his disciples in Caesarea Philippi, becomes the "keeper of the key" to the Kingdom of God. (cf. Matthew 16:13-20)
- The followers of Jesus become living testimonies of transformation.
- What's the value of knowing this stuff?
  - The answer is simple: Transformation
- The story of transformation doesn't end with Easter, it begins with Easter.

YOUR OWN NOTES:

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

The Gospels end with the resurrection because the resurrection is the _____

- Jesus is resurrected by the _____
  - The resurrection is affirmation of _____ of Jesus on the cross.
- The church, just as Jesus promised his disciples in Caesarea Philippi, becomes the _____ to the Kingdom of God. (cf. Matthew 16:13-20)
- The followers of Jesus become living testimonies of _____
- What's the value of knowing this stuff?
  - The answer is simple: _____
- The story of transformation doesn't end with Easter, it _____

YOUR OWN NOTES:

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---