EXODUS

The story of Moses is very familiar. He had been adopted as a baby by the daughter of Pharaoh and had grown up as a Prince of Egypt. But when he discovered his true identity, he tried to help his people—the Hebrews. He murdered a man and then had to run away into the wilderness, where he had lived for many years. At this point in his life, Moses had never met God. He was in the wilderness, watching over sheep, disengaged from the plan and people of God, not even looking for Him. But as happens so often in the Bible, God came down looking for a man, and he turned Moses' life upside down.
