“If there is one single application from our research that you walk away with, please let it be this: invite your dechurched friends back to a healthy church with you. But unlike a simple nudge to go back to the gym, we would do well to open the doors our homes and chairs at our table. We aren’t just telling them they should go back to church; we are inviting them into our lives, which includes church.”

(Jim Davis & Michael Graham, The Great Dechurching.)
