“For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save the lost.” - Luke 19:10

Loving the Lost: Aleng's life was a haze of addiction. He lived in the heart of the Golden Triangle, a mountainous region where three Southeast Asian countries meet. There, opium was as common as rice. Trapped in its grip, he was barely coherent. He slurred his words when he spoke. No one could tell if he truly understood the gospel. Yet, believers spoke the message of Christ to him again and again. Patiently. Persistently. Then, something changed. A flicker of light broke through the darkness. The gospel took root. Aleng repented, and Christ shattered the power of addiction. Today, Aleng is no longer a man lost in addiction but a bold evangelist among the Palaung people. The same message that once pursued him now flows from his lips as he tells others of the hope and freedom found in Christ.

MONDAY-

- Pray through Psalm 25, 55, 85, 115, 145
- Praise the Lord for transforming Aleng's life for eternity. Pray for Aleng's continued growth in Christ and that God will draw many more Palaung people to Himself through Aleng's witness of hope and freedom in Christ.
