Article: DHS Secretary Mayorkas Learns of Impeachment Proceedings Against Him on Live TV

Article Link: <https://www.westernjournal.com/dhs-secretary-mayorkas-learns-impeachment-proceedings-live-tv/>

Key Talking Points:

- House republicans released news that they are moving ahead with impeachment proceedings against homeland security Alejandro Mayorkas, for our out-of-control southern border.
- Per the western journal, chairman rep. Marjorie Taylor green of the house homeland committee panel says they has enough evidence to impeach Mayorkas.
- In a statement green stated quote: our investigation made clear that this crisis finds its foundation in secretary Mayorkas' decision-making and refusal to enforce the laws passed by congress, and that his failure to fulfill his oath of office demands accountability. The bipartisan house vote in November to refer articles of impeachment to my committee only served to highlight the importance of our taking up the impeachment process – which is what we will begin doing next Wednesday. End quote.
- If the house votes for impeachment, then a trial in the senate will follow. Since the democrats hold the majority in the senate some are saying the removal of Mayorkas is unlikely.
- Issues of primary concern where secretary Mayorkas was negligent regarding the out-of-control southern border are huge amounts of fentanyl and weapons being smuggled into the U.S., and 1.7 million plus getaways (referring to illegals that the border control has no idea who they are or where they are from). Among other concerns.
- The impeachment hearing of Mayorkas will formally begin on January 10th.

- “Matthew stresses Jesus’ identity as the royal Davidic Messiah, introducing his Gospel with a genealogy identifying Jesus as the ‘son of Abraham’ and the ‘son of David’ (1:1). His ‘fulfillment formulas’ repeatedly stress Jesus’ fulfillment of the Hebrew Scriptures (Matt 1:22–23; 4:14–16; 8:17; 13:35). ‘Son of David’ becomes Matthew’s favorite messianic title, appearing 10 times. In fulfillment of Micah 5:2, Jesus is born in Bethlehem to a descendant of David and heir to the Davidic throne (1:20; 2:1).”¹

- “Mark’s messianic presentation has greater stress on the suffering role of the Messiah. Though Mark does not shy away from the title—his opening line identifies his volume as “the beginning of the good news of Jesus the Messiah”—he takes great pains to show that the Messiah is the “Son of Man, who came not to be served, but to serve and to give his life a ransom for many” (10:45).”²

 - Luke provided an “orderly account” of the life and ministry of Jesus Christ for a Gentile audience to prove that Jesus is the promised Messiah for Israel and is indeed the Son of God who became the Son of Man in order to provide the way for the Gentiles to enter the Kingdom as well as Israel. “Jesus’ role as the Messiah is linked to Luke’s purpose throughout Luke–Acts to show that the message rooted in the Hebrews Scriptures is good news for all people... All along it was part of God’s plan that the Messiah would be a ‘light of revelation for the Gentiles’ (Luke 2:32; Acts 13:47; Isa 42:6; 49:6) and that this message of salvation would go forth from Jerusalem to the ends of the earth (Acts 1:8)...
