Lessons from Danger Zone pt. 4

When to Decide?

Discuss and Apply

Use the following questions to help you formulate age-appropriate questions to stimulate conversations that matter. Please share your ideas and experiences with us at connect@manna.church.

1. What impacted you the most from this week's message? Encouraged you? Challenged you?
2. Share a time when you had to decide to step into the danger zone. How did you know that it was the right decision? How did you arrive at that decision?
3. Describe how you know God's voice as if the one you are sharing it with is someone who does not know anything about it.
4. Discuss this: What God wants most when you are in the middle of the danger zone is for you to allow Him to reveal Himself and to draw you in to Him and His ways. He wants this more than He wants to fix your problem and rid you of the danger.

Prayer

Father, thank you for the lessons we learn in the Danger Zone. In every circumstance, help me to look to you. Open my eyes to see your hand at work in my life. I trust you with the plan, the process, and the outcome. Lord, forgive the times I have focused on my circumstance. Help me to focus with eyes of fearless faith on you.

In Jesus' Name, Amen

At Manna Church We Believe

Communion is to be taken frequently and offered to all believers except those who are living in unrepentant rebellion or immorality. The wafer and juice are symbols of Christ's body and blood and are useful to the exercise of faith in the person of Jesus Christ as the only means of absolving guilt, shame, and punishment of sin.
