- Genesis 3:17–19 – Romans 8:20–22
- The presence of suffering and injustice flows from the Fall—when sin entered, the world was fractured.
- We should not interpret suffering as a sign of God’s absence—but as a sign of a world in need of _____.

- Romans 3:10–12
- Mark 10:18
- Ecclesiastes 7:20
- The question “Why do bad things happen to good people?” assumes a _____ - CENTERED view of goodness. But in light of God’s holiness, none are righteous.
- Instead of demanding fairness, we respond with humility and gratitude for the mercy we receive every day.

- Psalm 103:8–14
- Matthew 5:45
- A better question might be: “Why do good things happen to bad people?” The answer: because God is _____ and compassionate.
- God gives sun and rain to the just and unjust alike—not because we deserve it, but because He is _____.

Reflection and Discussion

1. What does the Bible teach us about the source of suffering in the world?
 2. Why do you think people often ask, “Why do bad things happen to good people?” How might that question change when we consider Romans 3:10 and Mark 10:18?
 3. How does God show His mercy and compassion even to those who don’t deserve it?
 4. Jesus suffered more than any person in history, yet He was completely righteous. How does this truth shape the way we view our own suffering?
 5. How can we practically trust God’s goodness when life feels unfair?
