

The Powerful Role of the Prophet

2 Kings 13:10-25

The powerful role of the prophet is one greatly needed in our nation today. Far too many preachers have fallen into compromise with the spirit of the age and fail to preach the whole counsel of God's Word.

The prophets of old were God's chosen messengers who boldly spoke the Word of God to kings and the people of nations. They were not politicians or priests, but divine voices of truth who stood between God's holiness and national sin, calling people to return to the Lord.

In our text, King Joash of Israel visited Elisha when he had fallen sick with a deadly illness, and he received a powerful word of prophesy.

Main Thought...

➔ A nation is _____ when it listens to the voice of God's true prophets.

1. God has a _____ for all nations (v. 10-13).

Gen. 1:26-28; 11:9; Acts 17:26; Rev. 7:9

- To the _____ God has given the rod (Pr. 13:24).
- To the _____ God has given the keys (Mt. 16:19).
- To the _____ God has given the sword (Rm. 13:1, 4).

2. God sends _____ to the nations (v. 14).

Jer. 1:4-5; Amos 1:3a; Obad. 1:1a; Jonah 1:2; 3:10

3. God will _____ a righteous nation (v. 9-21).

Ps. 33:12a; Pr. 14:34; Jer. 18:6-10

4. God will _____ a rebellious nation (v. 22-25; 17:13-18).

Is. 5:20, 24-25; Jer. 29:7; Mt. 28:19-20; Eph. 4:15; 5:11; 1 Tm. 2:1-2
