In all seasons of life, the promises of God in the Bible are a great source of comfort and encouragement. Meditating on His promises can sustain us even in the tough times of life.

God has given to believers His “precious and very great promises” so that we may become partakers of His own divine nature (2 Pet. 1:4a).

In our text, Paul penned some of the most powerful promises in the Bible to encourage the believers who were living in Rome.

Main Thought...

➔ When God is for you, _____ can prevail against you.
