Ambassadors are very important persons. While officially serving their country as high-ranking representatives to a foreign land, they must always remember who they belong to.

Likewise, as dearly loved children of God, it's important for us to remember who we belong to. Whether for good or bad, we represent Jesus Christ to others every day of our lives (Phil. 3:20).

In our text, Paul taught the Corinthian believers that they were ambassadors for Christ who had a very important job to do.

Main Thought...

➔ As an ambassador for Christ, you are a very _____ person.

1. God has given us the _____ of regeneration (v. 17).

Jn. 3:3, 6-7; 1 Pet. 1:3; Rm. 6:4

2. God has given us the _____ of reconciliation (v. 18-20).

Acts 1:8; 1 Cor. 9:19-23

3. God has given us the _____ of salvation (v. 21).

- Jesus Christ became _____ for us (v. 21a).

- We can become _____ in Him (v. 21b).

Jer. 23:5-6; 1 Pet. 3:18; Rm. 1:16-17

Final Thoughts...

➔ Do you _____ that you are a very important person to God?

➔ What _____ of ambassador are you for Jesus Christ?
