In the church today, there are those who rise above the status quo. They are not content to merely be attenders or givers, but they have a deep love for the Lord and desire for their lives to make a difference for Him. We desperately need more people who are like this.

King David, likewise, had a group of mighty men who had a deep love for their king and country. They were known as "The Three" and "The Thirty," and their lives made a great difference for the Kingdom of Israel. They lived to honor their King (1 Sam. 22:1-2; 1 Chron. 12:1-2a).

In our text, King David's mighty men are listed by name along with the great feats they accomplished.
