

The Giant that Slew David

Dr. Bill Wilks

2 Samuel 11:1-5, 26-27

September 7, 2025

Lust is a giant problem that has slain many strong men and women. From Eve's desire for the forbidden fruit in Eden's garden to David's desire for a friend's wife on his rooftop, the temptation of lust has led many to make very foolish and painful choices.

At the age of around fifty, David had distinguished himself as a man of God, a valiant warrior, a prolific poet, and an excellent leader of his people. But at peak of his dynasty, Satan baited a fatal trap for David, and he fell for it. And if David can fall, so can we all (1 Cor. 10:12).

In our text, King David fell to the temptation of lust and committed unspeakable acts of adultery, betrayal, and murder.

Main Thought...

➔ No one is _____ the temptation of lust.

1. Set real _____ for yourself (v. 1).

Deut. 17:14-15a, 17a; 2 Sam. 5:12-13; Heb. 13:4

2. Learn to _____ your eyes (v. 2).

Mt. 5:27-28; Jm. 1:14-15

3. Run away _____ it's too late (v. 3-4).

Pr. 6:27-29; Gen. 39:12; 1 Cor. 6:18a; 2 Tim. 2:22a

4. Always _____ of sin's consequences (v. 5, 26-27).

Num 32:23b; Ps. 32:3-4; 51:1-2, 4, 9-13

Final Thoughts...

➔ Is God's hand _____ heavy on your life today?

➔ Do you need Him to _____ the joy of your salvation?