FROM DEATH TO LIFE

Blessed Beyond Belief Ephesians 1:1-14

What if someone gave you a check for a million dollars, but you put it away and forgot all about it? You might go on living like you're broke, when actually you're rich. That would be tragic. Yet spiritually, many believers live the same way—unaware of the riches they have in Christ.

From a prison cell in Rome, Paul wrote a letter to the Ephesians to remind them of the inexhaustible riches they possessed in Christ. Through faith in Him, they had been brought from spiritual death into glorious new life (Eph. 2:4-5).

In our text, Paul expressed worship to God in one long sentence of praise for the boundless blessings that believers possess in Christ.
