LIVING WITH AN ETERNAL PERSPECTIVE

When we look at our lives through a temporal perspective,
we risk losing it all.

But, when we look at our lives
through an eternal perspective, we will gain more than we can imagine.

PRIORITIES

Living with eternity in view will help us minimize earthly things and help us to maximize eternal things.

PERSUASION

The platform of the next generation is determined by the passion of this generation.

PATIENCE

“Why is it that we want every chapter to be good when God promises only that in the last chapter he will make all the other chapters make sense?”

Steve Saint

The background of the image is a vibrant blue sky. At the top, several bright sun rays radiate downwards, creating a sense of light and hope. Below the rays, a thick layer of white, fluffy clouds stretches across the horizon, filling the lower two-thirds of the frame. The overall atmosphere is serene and uplifting.

The Christian life is a constant state of waiting because we will never be fully satisfied till we get to heaven.

An aerial photograph of a dense, green forest. The sun is high in the sky, creating a series of bright, radiating sunbeams that illuminate the scene. The forest below is a vast expanse of green, with individual trees visible from this high altitude. The sky is a clear, bright blue, and the overall atmosphere is one of natural beauty and tranquility.
