Icebreaker:

How would you describe the home you grew up in?

General Discussion [Groups of 4]:

Read Deuteronomy 6:4-9

1. What was Israel commanded to hear?

2. How was Israel told to love God? Can love for God be measured? Is it tangible? How can we evaluate if we are loving God as we should? What does it mean to you to love God?

3. Why and how should God's commands be on our hearts first? How are we to teach them to our children or the next generation?

4. List the thing that Moses told the people to do in verses 7-9 so they could remember to keep the commandment to love God. How can you apply the list to your personal and family life?

Gospel-Centered Discussion:

5. Why did Moses call Israel and us to know God properly before he commanded them and us to love God?

Application Discussion.

6. What specific things could you do to better remember to keep God's commandments?

7. What specific things could you do to pass the command of loving God with all our beings to the next generation?

Please pray for the person on your right and ask God to help them with their answers to questions #6 and #7.
