9.24.17 | Today

How do you gauge whether or not someone is a good parent? Do you look at the children and how they behave? If so, is that the best way to measure good parenting? That would imply that the primary goal of parenting is to create well-behaved children and that parents can change their children's behavior. Today Pastor Chris discusses how neither of those is necessarily true.

MESSY PARENTING

Selected Scriptures
Follow along on your smartphone via
YouVersion Holy Bible App

Good parents don't always produce good kids.

- PDT

We want to stop trying to get children to do what we want them to do, but rather help them be who God wants them to be.

Instead of changing children's behavior with law and rules, we must help them find their identity in the Gospel.
