

EVERYTHING MUST GO

BRINGING HOPE TO THE HOPELESS

INTRODUCTION

Jesus didn't command us to agree with one another. We can disagree and love unconditionally.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Growing up, how was it modeled to you to treat people who believed differently than you politically and socially?
2. If someone reviewed your social media posts, what is the first word they would use to describe you? Is it one of these? What makes you say that? Do you wish it was a different word?
Curious • Funny • Opinionated • Loving • Social
3. Do you see the tension created by disagreements on political and social issues more as an advantage or as a problem? Somewhere in the middle?
4. What can you do to take a step toward people who don't have the same perspective as you? Is there something you should stop doing? If so, what?
5. Read Matthew 5:46–48 aloud, where Jesus gives guidance on how to treat those who are different.
6. What stands out to you? In verse 48, how would you define the word "perfect" in this context?

During Everything Must Go, our generosity campaign, we remind our communities that everybody matters to God. Join us as we partner with some fabulous organizations to meet critical needs in our communities. Visit jenkschurch.org/everything-must-go to participate.
