

EVERYTHING MUST GO

BRINGING HOPE TO THE HOPELESS

INTRODUCTION

If we're honest, many of us tend to serve just to please others or perhaps to prove something to ourselves or other people. But if we are to serve without insecurity or arrogance, we must first understand our identity and our purpose.

Discussion Questions

1. Talk about a time when someone went out of their way to get involved in your life and help you through a challenging situation. What do you think that person's effort may have cost him or her? What did it do for you?
2. When we truly serve, we have to give up something (time, resources, prejudices, pride, etc.). What is most difficult for you to give up in order to serve others?
3. Jesus elevated the dignity of everyone. Is there a group of people to whom you find it difficult to ascribe dignity? If so, what would it look like for you to be generous toward them?
4. Is there a charity or particular group of people in need that is near and dear to your heart? If so, talk about why you feel a burden to help that charity or group.

Moving Forward

During Everything Must Go, our generosity campaign, we remind our communities that everybody matters to God, whether God matters to them or not. How can our Group partner with some nonprofits or community organizations to meet critical needs in our communities?
