You Can't Do Life Alone

You can't do life alone! You are who and where you are today because someone showed up for you. You can be that someone for someone else. It starts by us simply showing up in the lives of those we want to influence. But to have the level of influence that we need, we have to change the way we think about influence and people who are different than us. As Christians we should never settle for a version of the gospel that doesn't move us to LOVE people who are different than us.

Discussion questions:

- 1. Who are some of the people who have “shown up” for you and had influence on your life?
- 2. What situations in life do you have influence and authority? How did you gain or earn that influence?
- 3. Dave defined empathy as “the ability to press pause on your own thoughts and feelings long enough to explore someone else’s thoughts and feelings.” Do you think you are good at being empathetic with people you know? With people who are different than you?
- 4. Who is God calling you to “show up” to and earn more influence in their lives? What next step do you need to take to start showing up for them?

Media challenge

We are asking everyone that has social media (facebook, twitter, Instagram, etc.) the take time every day this month and post one thing each day that you love about your church. Then end your post with #ilovejc

Let's keep creating some excitement and celebration about what Jesus is doing at Jenks Church.
