Stewardship Minute

by Mike Reed

I had the first surgery of my life last week. I made it almost 70 years, but I am no longer able to say, "all original parts." Now I'm in rehab and trying to regain strength and relearn some simple skills, like walking. Building strength is a slow process and it requires me to do the work even with pain. Giving is like that. It doesn't feel good at first, sometimes even painful, but over time you see the rewards. I encourage you to take the first step, work through the pain and grow in strength that you may receive the reward. Philippians 3:13-14

Budget Need YTD: $ 1,027,671.00

Actual YTD: $ 880,161.40
