

The One Who is Worthy

Revelation - Lesson 5

Read Revelation 4 - 5

A door stands open in heaven. A sealed scroll waits. And across all creation, one question echoes: Who is worthy? Step into the throne room of Revelation 4–5, where thunder rolls, worship rises, and John turns expecting a Lion—only to see a Lamb. Discover the One whose sacrifice secured victory, whose authority commands heaven, and whose purposes will prevail. When the future feels uncertain, will you trust the One who holds it?

REFLECTION 1:

In old English, the word worship was written worthship meaning "to ascribe worth." What particularly touched your heart about the worship John witnessed around God's throne?

REFLECTION 2:

In chapters 4 and 5, God is worshipped as holy, sovereign, Creator, and Redeemer. Which of these truths do you find most encouraging when you face uncertainty or fear, and why?

REFLECTION 3:

The elders lay their crowns before the throne, recognizing that everything they are and everything they have comes from God. What might it look like for us to lay our own “crowns” — our achievements, influence, security, or need for control — before Him?

REFLECTION 4:

John heard about a Lion, but when he looked, he saw a Lamb. What might God be teaching us through that contrast?

REFLECTION 5:

Jesus is both the Lion of the tribe of Judah and the Lamb of God. Which picture of Christ speaks most deeply to you in your present season of life, and why?

REFLECTION 6:

John's tears came from what he could see in the moment" no one appeared worthy to open the scroll. Where might our own fears or disappointments be shaped by a limited view of what God is doing, and how does the revelation of Christ as the worthy Lamb invite us to respond differently?

REFLECTION 7:

Christ is worthy to open the scroll and bring God's purposes to completion. How does that truth challenge the ways we try to secure, predict or control the future — and what would trusting Him with the future look like in practice?

REFLECTION 8:

How should a vision of God's throne, Christ's victory, and heaven's worship affect the way we live and worship today?
