Group Questions

1. What stands out to you from Israel's early obedience and victory? How can we practice that same dependence on God today?
2. Where do you see subtle compromises tempting Christians in our culture? How do we often rationalize them?
3. Israel feared iron chariots more than they trusted God. What "iron chariots" in your life tempt you to give in to fear instead of faith?
4. Why do you think Israel chose profit over purity when it came to keeping the Canaanites? Where might we do the same?
5. How do our relationships and partnerships influence our walk with Christ—for good or for harm?
6. What small compromises might be like "leaks in the roof" of your spiritual life right now?
7. How do you see God's justice and mercy working together in Judges 2?
8. In what ways do the judges point us forward to Jesus?
9. How does Christ's victory over sin free us to live in obedience today?
10. What's one area of your life where God is calling you to move from partial obedience to full obedience this week?
