- When you think about your own prayer life, which part of the Lord's Prayer framework (Adore, Accept, Ask, Admit, or Standing Against Evil) comes most naturally to you? Which one is the most challenging? Why?
- Jon said, "Prayer is not about moving God; it's about moving closer to God." How does that statement challenge or change the way you think about prayer?
- Jesus taught us to pray, "Your kingdom come, Your will be done." Why is surrendering our own plans and desires so difficult? Can you share a time when God's plan turned out to be better than your own?
- One of the points in the message was that confession doesn't break our relationship with God, it restores it. Why do you think so many people avoid talking to God after they've sinned? How does the gospel change that?
- This week, what is one practical step you can take to grow in your prayer life?
