“Parents and Children in Proverbs”

Exodus 34:6–7; Deuteronomy 6:6–9; Select Proverbs

Dr. Dan Doriani

1. God the Father is the model for all fathers.
(Exodus 34:6–7, Deuteronomy 6:6–9)

2. Practical guidance for parents

- Provision (Proverbs 13:22)

- Instruction (Proverbs 1:8, 22:6)

- Associations (Proverbs 13:20)

- Correction (Proverbs 22:15)

3. The gospel and parenting

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS FOR GROUPS:

1. What should parents provide for their children?
When is a parent providing too much?
2. What are the common mistakes we make when we read Proverbs 22:6?
What is it not promising? What is it declaring?
3. Why is it important for godly parents and children to spend lots of time together? What are the forces that separate parents and children and how can we counter them?
4. What is the principle of proportional justice? How does it apply in the home? How might it apply in the workplace?
5. Why is parenting always somewhat mysterious? How does this mystery lead to the gospel?
