

<https://www.jonathanbrentner.com/https/jonathan-brentner-g8fgsquarespacecom/config/2023/8/14/a-fatal-illusion>

A FATAL ILLUSION

It's been heart-wrenching at times, but now I fear I have become numb to the nonstop drumbeat of disability and death about which I read every week, if not every day.

In the past couple years, I have read hundreds of reports depicting the great suffering and death caused by the COVID injections. Stories thoroughly buried by the mainstream news, but nonetheless real to those now experiencing great pain or grieving the loss of loved ones.

The worldwide phenomenon of sudden deaths has reached a point where I must continue to warn people. The words of Proverbs 24:10-12 compel me to inform people of this fatal illusion that's advertised as harmless. Some might say I'm a "conspiracy theorist;" that's fine with me (I've been called far worse!). I very much wish I could keep silent, but I cannot.

The problem that keeps so many encased in a soundproof, dark bubble of normalcy is their failure to recognize that the globalists march to the drumbeat of Lucifer. They are his minions, which he's using to set up his new world order over which his man, the antichrist, will reign.

It should come as no surprise to anyone that these demonic powerbrokers, who control most governments (including that of the U.S.), are mass murderers and liars. These followers of Satan display his character, which Jesus described as a "murderer" and a "liar and the father of lies" (John 8:44).

William Makis MD, @MakisMD, in his article referenced on Twitter: "Teenage Athletes are still dying suddenly at unprecedented levels in US & Canada!!" provided the names of fifteen high school and college athletes that died suddenly or unexpectedly in the past month!

Caleb White (17) basketball

Tajh Boyd (19) football

Callie Marie Mitchell (16) cheerleading

Myzelle Law (19) football
Dalton Gay (17) football
Bria Deibert (19) basketball
Chase Edwards (17) basketball
Dy'Jierre Jackson (18) basketball
Tyson Downs (18) hockey
Annie Messelt (16) soccer, skiing
Simon Mirkes (16) hiking
Jacob Atchison (19) military
Thalia Chaverria (20) soccer
Lance Pfrimmer (19) cross country, track
Robert Bush (17) football

On May 25, 2023, a top insurance analyst in the US, Josh Stirling, reported his findings from the UK to U.S. Senator Ron Johnson of Wisconsin. Below is an excerpt from what he shared:

Those vaccinated against COVID-19 have a 26 percent higher mortality rate on average compared to those who declined the jab – and the death toll is even more staggering for vaccinated people under 50 years old, where mortality is 49 percent higher than for those unvaccinated.

The shocking numbers are based on government data from the United Kingdom and were brought to Senator Ron Johnson's (R-WI) attention by Josh Stirling, one of the nation's top insurance analysts and formerly Senior Research Analyst for U.S. nonlife insurance at Sanford C. Bernstein & Co.[iv]

This same article cited Stirling as concluding, "If you were to take these numbers and apply them to the United States, that ends up being something like 600,000 excess deaths per year."

I have read of other insurance analysts stating that there's been a forty percent increase in deaths in the under forty-four age group since the introduction of the injections.

<https://slaynews.com/news/92-covid-deaths-2022-were-triple-vaxxed/>

92% of Covid Deaths in 2022 Were Triple+ Vaxxed

<https://www.technocracy.news/shock-top-insurance-analyst-says-600000-americans-per-year-are-dying-from-covid-shots/>

Shock: Top Insurance Analyst Says 600,000 Americans Per Year Are Dying From COVID Shots

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/public_surveys/died_suddonly_more_than_1_in_4_think_someone_they_know_died_from_covid_19_vaccines

Died Suddenly? More Than 1-in-4 Think Someone They Know Died From COVID-19 Vaccines

https://www.theepochtimes.com/mkt_app/article/youtube-to-censor-content-contradicting-who-guidelines-5472977

YouTube to Censor Content Contradicting WHO Guidelines

YouTube has introduced a new “medical misinformation policy” that will censor any medical or health-related content that doesn’t align with claims made by the World Health Organization (WHO).

YouTube earlier had a “COVID-19 Misinformation Policy” webpage that stated that the platform doesn’t allow any content that “poses a serious risk of egregious harm” and spreads “medical misinformation” contradicting what the WHO or local health authorities (LHA) say about the COVID-19 pandemic. The webpage now redirects to a “medical misinformation policy” page that expands the censorship rule to “specific health conditions and substances” rather than COVID-19 alone.

YouTube stated that the policy could be arbitrarily enforced, as it “may not cover” all guidance from the WHO or LHAs related to “specific health conditions and substances.”

In an Aug. 15 blog post, YouTube wrote that it wants to “make sure there is a robust framework to build upon when the need for new medical misinformation policies arises.”

“We’ll continue to monitor local and global health authority guidance to make sure our policies adapt,” the post reads. “We want our approach to be clear and transparent, so that content creators understand where the policy lines are, and viewers know they can trust the health information they find on YouTube.”

YouTube asked creators to avoid posting content on the platform that contradicts health authority guidance on the prevention or transmission of certain health conditions “or on the safety, efficacy or ingredients of currently approved and administered vaccines.”

<https://www.theepochtimes.com/us/doj-and-fbi-subpoenaed-for-alleged-social-media-censorship-documents-5473036>

DOJ, FBI Subpoenaed for Alleged Social Media Censorship Documents

House Judiciary Committee Chairman Jim Jordan (R-Ohio) on Aug. 17 subpoenaed the Department of Justice (DOJ) and FBI for materials in connection to claims that the two agencies worked with Big Tech firms to censor content such as the New York Post's Hunter Biden laptop story.

In a letter, Mr. Jordan told FBI Director Christopher Wray (pdf) and Attorney General Merrick Garland (pdf) that documents and communications are needed to determine whether the federal government "coerced and colluded with companies and other intermediaries to censor speech." He then asked the FBI and DOJ to hand over the internal communications and documents relating to moderation, removal, or suppression of content on social media platforms, giving a Sept. 18 deadline.

"Numerous documents that have been made publicly available reflect the weaponization of the federal government’s power to censor speech online directly and by proxy," the letters read. "It is necessary for Congress to gauge the extent to which DOJ officials have coerced, pressured, worked with, or relied upon social media and other tech companies to censor speech. The scope of the Committee’s investigation includes understanding the extent and nature of DOJ’s involvement in this censorship."

<https://twitter.com/davidkurten/status/1691737652565832076?s=20>

There is no way that a book about the Maui fires could have been written, edited and published on 10 Aug before the end of the period it is talking about (8 - 11 Aug), and all filled with climate change propaganda.

This was pre-planned.

<https://leohohmann.com/2023/08/17/why-was-book-on-maui-published-2-days-after-wild-fires-started-why-did-police-block-streets-why-did-state-stall-release-of-critical-water-supplies-if-you-question-any-of-this-media-says-your/>

Why was book on Maui published 2 DAYS after 'wild fires' started? Why did police block streets? Why did state stall release of critical water supplies? If you question any of this, media says you're a believer in 'outlandish conspiracy theories'

Do not question anything: Just sit down, accept what we tell you, and shut up, plebes!

MSN, a corporate news outlet operated by Microsoft, believes it's an "outlandish conspiracy theory" to question how a 44-page book about the Maui "wildfire" managed to get written, edited, printed and published two days after the fires started.

If you think that's just a little bit too speedy for a book on a tragedy to be exploited and blamed on "climate change," then you are a conspiracy theorist, according to MSN.

Here's what the news outlet says about the book:

Since the onset of wildfires in Hawaii earlier this month, outlandish conspiracy theories involving 'space lasers' have proliferated across social media platforms. Now, the internet is questioning the veracity of a book published soon after the fires began.

'Fire and Fury: The Story of the 2023 Maui Fire and its Implications for Climate Change', authored by Dr Miles Stones, has recently garnered significant attention. The curiosity is largely attributed to the fact that the book was published a mere two days after the fires started on August 8.

MSN apparently also doesn't think it strange that nobody knows anything about the author of the book, Fire and Fury.

This reminds me of how the Georgia Guidestones appeared out of nowhere in a cow pasture in rural north Georgia in 1979 and nobody knew how it got there. One day it was a vacant field, the next day there was a giant granite monument testifying to the goals of the climate freaks, including their desire to dispense with 90 percent of the people living on planet earth.

Now we are supposed to accept the fact that a mystery author wrote and published a book about the Maui fires that have killed more than 100 people, the most deadly U.S. fire in a century, just two days after the fires started.

I suppose it's also a conspiracy theory to question why this fire destroyed buildings but left many of the trees, or why police formed a blockade of trucks to trap victims in the flames, or why the emergency sirens didn't work, or why the fires happened to break out on land that was already in dispute, or why the governor of Hawaii has been in discussions about remaking Maui into a "smart Island" in accordance with surveillance-state technology advocated by the World Economic Forum.

<https://www.electionforum.org/censorship/government-election-interference-escalates-bidens-doj-now-wants-to-censor-trump-from-criticizing-the-election-interference-persecution-and-weaponization-of-the-doj-7-things-you-should-know/>

Government Election Interference Escalates: Biden's DOJ Now Wants to Censor Trump from Criticizing the Election Interference, Persecution, and Weaponization of the DOJ – 6 Things You Should Know (And the Statement that Set the Deep State Heads Spinning)

The Department of Justice (DOJ) has targeted former President Trump again...

They didn't like what Trump posted on Truth Social that the DOJ is a "danger to democracy."

They want the Judicial Activist DC Federal Judge overseeing the J6 case to place Trump under a gag order.

This is an attack on Trump's 1st Amendment Right to Free Speech.

<https://joehoft.com/bombshell-exclusive-nationwide-cellular-network-connects-election-equipment-and-gives-federal-government-access-to-election-systems-at-the-precinct-level/>

BOMBSHELL EXCLUSIVE: NATIONWIDE CELLULAR NETWORK CONNECTS ELECTION EQUIPMENT AND GIVES FEDERAL GOVERNMENT ACCESS TO ELECTION SYSTEMS AT THE PRECINCT LEVEL

A growing majority of Americans know the 2020 election was fraudulent. Many analysts who have been studying election integrity have concluded that there had to be a two-way connection between local election electronics (electronic poll pads, tabulators, election management systems, voter databases, etc.) and a centralized data collection system responsible for monitoring and manipulating the election. Fingers have rightly been pointed at all-inclusive election management software, the Albert Sensor system, Scytl and Edison, and the Election Infrastructure Information Sharing and Analysis Center (EI-ISAC).

This incestuous collaboration between the Department of Homeland Security, the Election Assistance Commission, leftist/globalist funding, foreign companies, and their private partners, allowed for the real-time monitoring of all election data, and more importantly, the ability to change the results.

The idea of a national cellular network dedicated to public safety was hatched in the wake of 9/11 when congested cell networks proved to be a bottleneck for first responders. In 2012, Congress created the First Responder Network Authority under the Department of Commerce to oversee the build-out of "FirstNet." The original intent provided by its sponsors was that FirstNet would serve police, fire, and EMT services. However, the scope was soon expanded to include all "critical infrastructure" – which included water, energy, and transportation infrastructure. (<https://www.digi.com/solutions/by-technology/firstnet>)

Curiously, just days before Barack Obama left office, his administration's Department of Homeland Security used the specter of "Russian interference" in the 2016 election as an excuse to declare election systems to be a part of that critical infrastructure. As a result, the stage was set to roll election systems into FirstNet.

The original plan to build FirstNet was to create a separate network with nationwide coverage that used a dedicated cellular band portion known as Band 14. Years and billions of dollars later, AT&T had built out the FirstNet Band 14 network with the coverage shown in the map below.

<https://thepeoplesvoice.tv/taxpayer-funded-museum-in-minneapolis-holds-demon-summoning-event-for-children/>

Taxpayer Funded Museum in Minneapolis Holds 'Demon Summoning' Event For Children

The Walker Art Center, a taxpayer funded museum in Minneapolis, held a "playful demon summoning session" for families and children, with a performance called "Lilit the Empathic Demon."

"Families are invited to create a vessel to trap the demon that knows them best — perhaps the 'demon of overthinking' — and then participate in a playful ceremony to summon and befriend their demon," the website explains.

The event was designed for families, with children encouraged to participate, and finished with a "playful demon summoning session."

This is a free country. If adults want to dabble in the black arts in their free time, that is up to them. But family friendly? For children? Taxpayer funded? Really?

<https://www.wnd.com/2023/08/shocking-family-friendly-entertainment-playful-demon-summoning/>

Shocking 'family friendly' activity: 'Playful demon summoning'
'Create a vessel to trap and befriend the dark spirit that knows them best'

A tax dollar-supported "art center" in the leftist state of Minnesota has held a "family friendly" event — a session for "playful demon summoning."

<https://www.popsci.com/technology/dod-generative-ai-task-force/>

US military's special task force will explore generative AI
Can AI models make military predictions? The DoD wants to find out.

Popular artificial intelligence applications like ChatGPT or DALL-E are growing more popular with the masses, and the Department of Defense is taking note. To get ahead of potential uses and risks of such tools, on August 10, the DoD announced the creation of a new task force analyze and possibly integrate generative artificial intelligence into current operations.

AI is an imprecise term, and the technologies that can make headlines about AI often do so as much for their flaws as for their potential utility. The Pentagon task force is an acknowledgement of the potential such tools hold, while giving the military some breathing room to understand what, exactly, it might find useful or threatening about such tools.

While Pentagon research into AI certainly carries implications about what that will ultimately mean for weapons, the heart of the matter is really about using it to process, understand, and draw certain predictions from its collection of data. Sometimes this data is flashy, like video footage recorded by drones of suspected insurgent meetings, or of hostile troop movements. However, a lot of the data collected by the military is exceptionally mundane, like maintenance logs for helicopters and trucks.

<https://www.darpa.mil>

Embarking on Quest for New Quantum Materials

Basic science effort seeks novel nanoelectronic materials for robust quantum computing devices, sensors

DARPA's new Synthetic Quantum Nanostructures (SynQuaNon) program aims to address this challenge with a fundamental science effort that seeks to develop synthetic metamaterials to enable enhanced functionalities and novel capabilities for quantum information science.

https://www.prophecynewswatch.com/article.cfm?recent_news_id=6286

AI Jesus And Communist China Attempt To Rewrite The Bible

The words of Jesus have comforted, inspired, challenged and even condemned people over the millennia, but apparently it's hard to actually read the Bible.

So a new software program is offering people the opportunity to "text" Him, and get a response.

A report from Religion News describes the new program that is like an instant messaging platform that lets users chat with ChatGPT impersonators.

Text with Jesus was launched just weeks ago, and comes from Cat Loaf software of Los Angeles, whose chief, Stephane Peter, said, "We stir the AI and tell it: You are Jesus, or you are Moses, or whoever, and knowing what you already have in your database, you respond to the question based on their characters."

Access to "comments" from some biblical characters is available only for a premium price.

But characters listed as "responding" including the Holy Family, the apostles, the prophets, Ruth, Job and Lot.

Peter's company was founded in 2011 and already has applications like "Text from the Founding Fathers."

Religion News explained, "When ChatGPT was released last year, the 46-year-old developer, who came to the United States from France, wondered how to use AI to upgrade the Text from Jesus app. In February, he started digging into OpenAI, the artificial intelligence research laboratory that launched ChatGPT, and created a proper chat from a simple devotional app."

The program formulates responses to just about any questions, and includes a Bible verse each time.

Peter invited various church leaders to try the program when he was developing it, and his initial work drew concerns that it lacked Bible references.

And he made some adjustments so "it can speak more like a regular person..."

Of course, it's a computer program and acts like one, but Peter said he set it up so "Jesus' characters tend to avoid taking offensive stances, instead taking an inclusive and tolerant line," even though the Bible documents Jesus' adherence to an absolutism regarding salvation.

For example, on the idea of same-sex relations, forbidden in the Bible, Peter's creation says it is "up to each individual to seek guidance from their own faith tradition and personal convictions."

Meanwhile, the Chinese government is not even trying to hide its corruption of the scriptures.

Jesus, according to the Chinese Communist government, is now a "sinner."

A report from CBN News reveals that the leftist repressives in the government are facing a revolt among their own citizens, and now are rewriting the Bible in order to suppress the faithful.

The report explained one example was the Communist Party version of John chapter eight, where Jesus challenges those who caught a woman in adultery to examine their own lives.

The perverted version now states: "Jesus once said to the angry crowd who was trying to stone a woman who had sinned, 'He who is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone at her.' When his words came to their ears, they stopped moving forward. When everyone went out, Jesus stoned the woman himself, and said, 'I am also a sinner.'"

The problem threatening Chinese officials is that there now are estimated to be some 130 million Chinese Christians. There are more Christians in China than members of the CCP, the report said.

"The Chinese are no longer content with all of these attempts to try to forcibly get Christians to deny their faith," explained Tina Ramirez of Hardwired Global. "And so now they've just taken it to a new level where they're trying to rewrite the scripture and what the Bible says, to confuse them and to prevent them from becoming Christians."

Bob Fu of ChinaAid told CBN, "So, this is happening right now. We have seen the escalation. Bibles for children is totally forbidden. And all the Bible apps and Bible-related apps were forcefully removed from every e-commerce app store. Millions of Chinese Christian children were forced to sign a form renouncing their faith in public."

Todd Nettleton of Voice of the Martyrs said the CCP is frightened because it is "always about control."

"And they see the Gospel, they see the Christian message as something that would take control away from the Communist Party."