

The War Machine

Now I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals; and I heard one of the four living creatures saying with a voice like thunder, "Come and see." 2 And I looked, and behold, a white horse. He who sat on it had a bow; and a crown was given to him, and he went out conquering and to conquer.

3 When He opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, "Come and see."
4 Another horse, fiery red, went out. And it was granted to the one who sat on it to take peace from the earth, and that people should kill one another; and there was given to him a great sword.

We see a build of the war machine that will unleash itself at the beginning of the Tribulation Period. We see the build up now with Wars and Rumors of war.

BREAKING: BlackRock Recruiter Who 'Decides People's Fate' Says 'War is Good for Business' While Spilling Info on Asset Giant

In the footage, a BlackRock Recruiter named Serge Varlay describes how BlackRock is able to "run the world" in about 7 minutes of riveting undercover footage. The footage was captured over the course of several meetings in New York by one of OMG News' rockstar undercover journalists.

BlackRock Inc is the world's largest asset management company that's gained more notoriety as of late due to its large acquisitions. Varlay says it's easier for BlackRock to do things when "people aren't thinking about it" and the asset giant "doesn't want to be anywhere on the radar. This story is a peek into why.

Serge Varlay told our journalist that BlackRock manages $20 trillion dollars worldwide. According to him, "it's incomprehensible numbers." BlackRock has over $9.5 trillion of assets under management, that's larger than the GDP of all countries on the globe except the US and China.

"The senators...are fing cheap – you got 10 grand, you can buy a senator," Varlay remarked in what is arguably the most unabashed description of corruption and bribery from their own company we've ever heard. The extended soundbite from Varlay is below:

You can take this big f ton of money and buy people, I work for a company called BlackRock...It's not who is the president it's who is controlling the wallet of the president. You could buy your candidates. First, there is the senators these guys are fuckin cheap. Got 10 grand you can buy a senator I'll give you 500k right now It doesn't matter who wins they're in my pocket.

Varlay doesn't stop there, he goes on to describe what those in his line of work think of the tragedy of war saying its "real fing good for business".

Ukraine is good for business, you know that right? Russia blows up Ukraine's grain silos and the price of wheat is going to go mad up. The Ukrainian economy is the wheat market. The price of bread goes up, this is fantastic if you're trading. Volatility creates opportunity for profit...

Varlay added that its "exciting when s goes wrong."

Something we have known all along and why Trump was the only president to not get us into a new war. They love proxy wars as they are good for business!

Zelenskyy Admits Slow Progress in Counteroffensive

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said battlefield progress in Kyiv's counteroffensive against Russian forces had been "slower than desired," the BBC reported on Wednesday.

"Some people believe this is a Hollywood movie and expect results now. It's not," it quoted Zelenskyy as saying in an interview.

Ukraine has reported recapturing eight villages in the south in the last two weeks. Though small, the advances are the biggest by its forces since November as they push into heavily fortified and mined Russian-held areas.

Pentagon accounting error provides extra $6.2 billion for Ukraine military aid

The Pentagon says it overestimated the value of the weapons it has sent to Ukraine by $6.2 billion over the past two years, resulting in a surplus that will be used for future security packages

The Pentagon said Tuesday that it overestimated the value of the weapons it has sent to Ukraine by $6.2 billion over the past two years — about double early estimates — resulting in a surplus that will be used for future security packages.

Pentagon spokeswoman Sabrina Singh said a detailed review of the accounting error found that the military services used replacement costs rather than the book value of equipment that was pulled from Pentagon stocks and sent to Ukraine. She said final calculations show there was an error of $3.6 billion in the current fiscal year and $2.6 billion in the 2022 fiscal year, which ended last Sept. 30.

As a result, the department now has additional money in its coffers to use to support Ukraine as it pursues its counteroffensive against Russia. And it come as the fiscal year is wrapping up and congressional funding was beginning to dwindle.

EU Proposes 50 Bn-euro Package To Support Ukraine

Brussels on Tuesday asked EU member states to back a 50-billion-euro ($55 billion) package to support Ukraine over the next four years, as part of a boost to the bloc's budget.

"This financial reserve will allow us really to calibrate our financial support according to the evolution of the situation on the ground," European Commission chief Ursula von der Leyen said.

The proposal from the European Commission, the EU's executive arm, is aimed at helping prop up Kyiv's finances and covering immediate reconstruction costs caused by Russia's war.

The money, 33 billion euros in loans and 17 billion in grants, is part of the review to plug gaps in the EU's budget for the period 2024-2027 left by the fallout of the Covid pandemic and the conflict.

Ukraine's Prime Minister Denys Shmygal thanked von der Leyen "for such steadfast commitment to supporting Ukraine".

The amount still could represent less each year than the 18 billion euros the EU has committed towards Ukraine government expenditures in 2023.

Ukraine Needs Over $6B Aid in Next 12 Months: Prime Minister

Ukraine needs just over $6 billion more in the next 12 months to help recover from Russia's war, Ukrainian Prime Minister Denys Shmyhal said on Wednesday.

"We still need another $6.125 billion," he told the Ukraine Recovery Conference in London. "We have set an ambitious goal of securing pledges for this amount as a result of this conference."

Biden Stands by Referring to Xi As 'Dictator,' Sees No Change in Relations With Beijing

Biden made comments about Xi during a fundraiser event in California on June 20. He unexpectedly referred to the Chinese leader as a "dictator" while recalling the recent spy balloon incident.

Biden said the Chinese spy balloon, which was shot down in February by the U.S. military after being blown off course over the United States, had caused "great embarrassment" for Xi.

"The reason why Xi Jinping got very upset in terms of when I shot that balloon down with two box cars full of spy equipment in it was he didn't know it was there," Biden said at the event.

"That's a great embarrassment for dictators. When they didn't know what happened. That wasn't supposed to be going where it was. It was blown off course."

LADIMIR Putin vowed to deploy his hypersonic "Satan-2" nuclear-capable missiles in a chilling new threat to the West.

The Russian leader said that the new generations of the Sarmat intercontinental ballistic missiles - thought to be the world's most powerful - would soon be deployed for combat duty.

In a speech to newly graduated soldiers, Putin warned: "In the near future, the first launchers of the Sarmat complex with a new heavy missile will go on combat duty."

He also stressed the importance of Russia's "triad" of nuclear forces that can be launched from land, sea or air.

"The most important task here is the development of the nuclear triad, which is a key guarantee of Russia's military security and global stability," he said.

Defence Minister Sergei Shoigu also warned the military graduates that the "collective West" was waging a "real war" against Russia.

The new 208-ton hypersonic Satan-2 rocket measures 116 feet in length and can be loaded with 15 light nuclear warheads at once.

The weapon was designed to carry out nuclear strikes in countries thousands of miles away in the US and Europe.

US Has 'Deep Concerns' About CCP Base in Cuba: Blinken

The Biden administration is voicing its concerns about proposed Chinese military facilities in Cuba after downplaying the existence of such facilities in recent weeks.

Secretary of State Antony Blinken said that he raised the issue with China's communist leadership during a trip to Beijing over the weekend.

"This is something we're going to be monitoring very, very closely and we've been very clear about that," Blinken said during a June 20 press conference in London.

"We will protect our homeland. We will protect our interests."

Blinken's comments referred to reports that the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), which rules China as a single-party state, is working to develop a spying facility and military training base in Cuba, 100 miles off the coast of Florida.

Blinken said that he expressed to CCP leadership that the United States "would have deep concerns about [Chinese] intelligence or military activities in Cuba."

Satanic Temple to Host 'Let Us Burn' Concerts at State Capitols in Protest of Christian Musician Sean Feucht

The Satanic Temple is planning to host a "Let Us Burn" concert series at multiple state capitols in protest of Christian musician Sean Feucht's ongoing "Let Us Worship" tour.

The organization has taken issue with Feucht being permitted to perform in several state capitol buildings and is demanding that their band, Satanic Planet, be allowed to perform in them as well.

Satanic Planet's frontperson is also the co-founder of the Satanic Temple, Lucien Greaves.

In a statement about the planned concerts, Greaves said that his band must be allowed to perform because "that stage is every bit as much ours as it is his."

"Feucht is openly a theocrat who courts the attention of politicians and seeks to proselytize through his performances," Greaves said. "He has his opinions, and we have ours, but one thing the government can not do is preference his viewpoint over ours by giving him exclusive access to perform a concert on the Capitol grounds. That stage is every bit as much ours as it is his, so, in the name of pluralism and religious liberty, there are some state capitols that are likely soon to be hosting Satanic Planet shows."

During their concerts, which have drawn protests in the past, Satanic Planet performs ceremonial "unbaptisms."

The organization has now started a crowdfunding campaign to pay for the tour.

"We will not be able to sell tickets to the capitol grounds, we will surely draw protests, the stage and sound will likely be difficult, and the cost will not be insignificant. That said, however, we can not stand by idly as theocratic extremists are given such an elevated public platform to spread their divisive message without reminding everybody that that stage is equally theirs as well. Feucht seeks to use the stage to announce a theocratic stranglehold over the United States government, and we seek to rectify that by re-establishing pluralism."

Boston First Responders Horrified to Find Four Children at Transgender-Drag Party with a Dead Body and Drugs and Sex Toys Scattered Throughout the Home

In a disturbing incident, four children were discovered in a squalid apartment filled with “alcohol, drugs, sex toys” and a deceased man, as reported by first responders and city officials.

Boston Fire Department first responders were called to a public housing complex for a man in cardiac arrest on Saturday morning.

What they found was horrifying! The crew found themselves confronting far more than a routine medical emergency.

“This is sickening,” City Councilor Michael Flaherty said. “I was informed by people at the scene that there were drugs, alcohol, sex toys all around the apartment as well as a dead body on the floor.”

New emails show COVID vaccine mandates were based on a lie

Emails obtained through a Freedom of Information Act request show that CDC Director Rochelle Walensky and former NIH Director Francis Collins were aware of, and discussed, “breakthrough cases” of COVID in January 2021 — right when the vaccines became widely available. In her email, Walensky says that “clearly,” it is an “important area of study,” links to a study raising the issue, and assures the person she is sending it to that Dr. Anthony Fauci is looped into these conversations.

However, in public, Walensky was saying something quite different. Two months after discussing this data, she said vaccinated people “don’t carry the virus” and “don’t get sick.” In a congressional hearing, after it became clear people were able to get infected with COVID even after receiving the vaccine, she defended her original statements by claiming it was true at the time she said it — namely, for the strands we were dealing with in early 2021.

Report confirms 632x increase in Child Excess Deaths across Europe since EMA approval of COVID Vaccine for Children

In the scorching summer of 2021, a momentous decision swept across Europe, sparking a whirlwind of emotions among parents, who had fallen for the 24/7 propaganda, eagerly awaiting a ray of hope for their children.

The European Medicines Agency (EMA) had finally granted emergency use approval for the use of the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine in children aged 12 to 15.

Relief and elation surged through the hearts of countless naive parents who saw this as a beacon of protection against the alleged pandemic.

Yet, the winds of fortune took an unexpected turn as the vaccine rollout for children commenced. Startling reports emerged, revealing a distressing surge in excess deaths among the young ones across the continent. The sense of optimism quickly faded among the thousands of families affected, and was replaced by a grim reality that cast a shadow over the hopes of many.

Tragically, the statistics paint a haunting picture, with a staggering 63,060% surge in excess deaths among children aged 0 to 14 by the twenty-second week of 2023. These numbers whisper a chilling tale of consequences that were foreseen by many silenced and heavily censored voices.
