

And the runner up for the False Prophet is...

https://www.weforum.org/open-forum/event_sessions/open-forum-religion-outdated-21st-century

<https://www.technocracy.news/competing-with-god-wef-calls-for-ai-to-rewrite-the-bible-create-religions-that-are-actually-correct/>

Competing With God? Harari Suggests AI Could Write Bible, Creating ‘Religions That Are Actually Correct’

A top official with the World Economic Forum (WEF) has called for religious scripture to be “rewritten” by artificial intelligence (AI) to create a globalized “new Bible.”

Yuval Noah Harari, the senior advisor to the WEF and its chairman Klaus Schwab, argues that using AI to replace scriptures will create unified “religions that are actually correct.”

Harari, an influential author and professor, made the call while giving a talk on the “future of humanity.”

According to Harari, the power of AI can be harnessed and used to reshape spirituality into the WEF’s globalist vision of “equity” and inclusivism.

Speaking with journalist Pedro Pinto in Lisbon, Portugal, Harari told the elitist audience:

“It’s the first technology ever that can create new ideas.

“You know, the printing press, radio, television, they broadcast, they spread the ideas created by the human brain, by the human mind.

“They cannot create a new idea.

“You know, [Johannes] Gutenberg printed the Bible in the middle of the 15th century; the printing press printed as many copies of the Bible as Gutenberg instructed it, but it did not create a single new page.

“It had no ideas of its own about the Bible: Is it good? Is it bad? How to interpret this? How to interpret that?”

Harari then revealed that he and his allies at the WEF have a solution to the supposed problems he’d just highlighted.

“AI can create new ideas; [it] can even write a new Bible,” he declared.

“Throughout history, religions dreamt about having a book written by a superhuman intelligence, by a non-human entity,” he added.

<https://www.logically.ai/factchecks/library/7cd4671a>

The World Economic Forum claims that God is dead, that Jesus is fake news, and that they have gained divine powers.

We have heard him say it even though we see this on Google...

<https://apnews.com/article/fact-check-god-jesus-WEF-davos-schwab-214431820574>

WEF never said Jesus is ‘fake news,’ despite claims.

Who is trying to fool who? We heard him say it! Oh, but he didn’t really mean it, yeah, right.

We know that the Antichrist and False Prophet will...

Daniel 7:25

He shall speak pompous words against the Most High, Shall persecute the saints of the Most High, And shall intend to change times and law.

If there is a runner up for the False Prophet it would have to be him.

And we know between the WEF and the UN they are not letting up on the great reset.

We know it is coming as part of the great apostasy

<https://humanevents.com/2023/06/12/german-church-uses-chatgpt-ai-to-lead-service>

Protestant German church uses ChatGPT to lead service as part of annual theological convention

Hundreds of German Protestant church members gathered in Bavaria for a service that was almost completely made up of artificial intelligence. The ChatGPT bot apparently guided more than 300 attendees through 40 minutes of music, prayer, blessings, and sermons, according to The Journal.

The service was put together by ChatGPT and Jonas Simmerlein, a theologian and philosopher from the University of Vienna. "I conceived this service – but actually I rather accompanied it, because I would say about 98% comes from the machine," he explained.

The bot reportedly had an expressionless display and monotonous voice as it announced: "Dear friends, it is an honour for me to stand here and preach to you as the first artificial intelligence at this year's convention of Protestants in Germany." But there were many people who were excited to see the development, as The Journal reported that there was a long line of people waiting outside the neo-Gothic building before the service began.

Can someone say Image of the Beast!

https://www.prophecynewswatch.com/article.cfm?recent_news_id=6154

UN's Vision Of The Future: One Digital ID To Rule Us All

The United Nations recently published three new Policy Briefs "to provide more detail on certain proposals contained in Our Common Agenda" - The UN Secretary-General's vision for the future of global cooperation that will be decided at "The Summit of the Future" in September 2024. These briefings; A Global Digital Compact, Reforms to the International Financial Architecture and The Future of Outer Space Governance sets out a chilling course for our future.

Among the proposals are a new "apex body" in charge of the entire financial system that will "enhance its coherence and align its priorities with the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development." This could, according to Secretary-General António Guterres, be done through a "Biennial Summit between the Group of 20, Economic and Social Council, the Secretary-General, and heads of international financial institutions."

A vital part of the agenda is also digital connectivity and the establishment of a Global Digital Compact. This can be described as a cybernetic organ, consisting of a digitally connected network of people, entities, devices, and things, that easily can be directed by those who run the system.

In the Policy Brief it is for example explained how digitisation will help to achieve the global goals. The suggestions happens to be very similar to what World Economic Forum and PwC prescribed in their report Unlocking Technologies for the Global Goals in 2020. A Digital ID is a cornerstone in this work and is among other things seen as a way to reduce poverty.

<https://www.globalgovernmentforum.com/us-digital-identity-bill-passes-through-to-senate/>

US digital identity bill passes through to Senate

An interagency task force whose job would be to support "reliable, interoperable digital identity verification in the public and private sectors" could be established by the US federal government after a Senate committee vote.

The legislation behind the task force, known as the Improving Digital Identity Act, was passed by the US Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee last week in a vote of 11-1. It now moves on to the full Senate for debate.

The legislation notes that there is no easy, affordable method for government agencies and businesses to verify whether an individual is who they purport to be online, allowing cyber criminals to more easily access personal data.

"The inadequacy of current digital identity solutions degrades security and privacy for all people in the United States, and next generation solutions are needed that improve security, privacy, equity, and accessibility," the bill reads.

It says the government is “uniquely positioned to deliver critical components that address deficiencies in the digital identity infrastructure of the United States and augment private sector digital identity and authentication solutions”.

You can't have a digital currency without a digital ID. It's not if, it's when, and that will be soon!

https://www.prophecynewswatch.com/article.cfm?recent_news_id=6145

Nearly A Third Of GenZ Favors Government Surveillance Cameras In Every Household

Nearly one-third of Generation Z says they'd be just fine with government-installed surveillance cameras in every household under the guise of reducing domestic violence and other illegal activity.

"Would you favor or oppose the government installing surveillance cameras in every household to reduce domestic violence, abuse, and other illegal activity?" asks a new survey from the Cato Institute. Of the responses, 29% of those aged 18-29 said yes.

Do you see how easy the Antichrist will have it. People are already prepped. It seems everyone is distracted to see it. Is there evil and wicked plan going to go forward? As we see the destruction of the morals of our nation we know it will be faster than you think!

https://www.coffeeandcovid.com/p/metaphorical-tuesday-june-13-2023?utm_source=substack&utm_medium=email

Biden's official Pride celebration this weekend featured men with extreme surgical body modifications frolicking semi-naked with Joe Biden on the White House lawn. I'm not even exaggerating much.

Sorry about the imagery, but you've seen worse. This is your White House:

Mere moments before this indescribably embarrassing photo was taken, the man covering his artificial breasts in the picture above, so-called "trans influencer" Rose Montoya, 27, shook hands with Joe Biden, who some people believe is the President of the United States. Here they are:

It's hard to calculate which was more disgraceful and humiliating, the pornographic celebration of atypical sexual lifestyles at our Nation's most important, historic, and traditionally dignified monument and seat of authority, or the fact that the White House's "celebration" featured the so-called Pride flag carefully located in between and higher than two U.S. flags surrounding it, which was itself a grotesque violation of flag etiquette, and metaphorically suggested that Pride governs the United States.

And President Biden tweeted this:

"Today, the People's House – Your House – send a clear message to the country and to the world. America is a nation of pride."

Let's remember what the Bible says...

Proverbs 16:18

Pride goes before destruction, And a haughty spirit before a fall.

Proverbs 16:5

Everyone proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord; Though they join forces, none will go unpunished.

Judgment is coming...

Revelation 9:20

But the rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons, and idols of gold, silver, brass, stone, and wood, which can neither see nor hear nor walk.

This last story almost seems impossible believe. I have been saying for a long time that these world leaders are involved with sick perverted witchcraft and sorcery. When we try to bring in up we are put into the Qanon camp that says all democrats kill babies and drink their blood. But how far could that be? Are there really people who get into that kind of stuff? It seems not only do they but there is a lucrative market for this stuff...

<https://nypost.com/2023/06/14/seven-charged-with-stealing-and-selling-human-remains/>

Morgue manager at Harvard Medical School among 7 charged with stealing, selling human remains

Seven people including the morgue manager at Harvard Medical School were arrested and charged with stealing and selling human remains from mortuaries at the Ivy League school and the University of Arkansas, prosecutors said.

The arrests involved an underground network that robbed corpses — including the bodies of two stillborn infants — at Harvard Medical School's Anatomical Gifts Program and an Arkansas mortuary and crematorium, US Attorney Gerard M. Karam said in a statement Wednesday.

Cedric Lodge, 55, allegedly stole the remains from the university morgue, where he worked, and sold the body parts online with the help of his wife, Denise, 63, to associates Katrina Maclean, 44, Joshua Taylor, 46, and Matthew Lampi, 52.

The shocking federal criminal charges described a grisly conspiracy, operating out of Harvard University, including at least five people who'd created a nationwide network for trafficked human remains for ... personal collections. The conspirators had been getting away with it for YEARS, and were making money handing over fists. Literally.

One of the conspirators even operated a retail store selling (under the counter) items for elite collectors created from human remains, such as shoes and books bound in tanned human skin. She lives and operates in Salem, Massachusetts, which should give you a hint, and store is called Kat's Creepy Creations, which seems grimly appropriate.

The industrious pair had no trouble locating customers, such as the aforementioned Kat's Creepy Creations and non-traditionalists like Jeremy Pauley from Pennsylvania, pictured below. Jeremy sold human merchandise ON HIS INSTAGRAM PAGE.

Anyway, NBC News reported the Lodges had a process. Mr. Lodge would escort the buyers into Harvard's morgue to pick out the very best remains from that day's surplus inventory they wished to buy. It was something like a necrotic shopping spree. Then Mr. Lodge would take the carefully-selected bits of donor's bodies home from Harvard to Mrs. Lodge, and she would package them up for shipping to buyers by express mail.

I won't list all the body parts in the indictments' sordid catalog of purchases. Trust me that you'll be happier not knowing. But I will say it included parts that would make you wonder: what on Earth would anyone be doing with that in the first place? And there were plenty of other parts that easily suggest various wildly inappropriate and downright evil uses.

<https://www.sfgate.com/local/article/san-francisco-bohemian-club-sued-by-valets-18148391.php>

San Francisco's secretive Bohemian Grove sued by valets

A lawsuit brought against the Bohemian Club has revealed the inner workings of one of America's most secretive clubs, headquartered in San Francisco.

Three valets who worked for years at the private club's infamous summer camp at Monte Rio in Sonoma County brought the complaint, seen by SFGATE. The complaint alleges a litany of unlawful labor practices at Bohemian Grove, including "nonstop" 16-hour work days, during which employees were not provided bathroom and lunch breaks, and a failure to pay minimum wage and overtime.

Every summer for 150 years, a 2,700-acre clearing in the ancient redwoods near the Russian River becomes a gathering place for the world's elite. The Bohemian Club's summer camp is shrouded in mystery but is rumored to end with a ritual that involves a human effigy and the burning of a giant sacrificial owl.

Founded by a group of journalists in 1872, many major moments in modern American history have been tied to the club and its summer camp. It is said to be where J. Robert Oppenheimer first discussed the Manhattan Project, which resulted in the dropping of two atomic bombs on Japan in World War II; Richard Nixon's successful 1968 election campaign was reportedly launched at the camp; and it recently made the news when it was revealed that Clarence Thomas visited the club with Republican billionaire Harlan Crow.

The all-male club has successfully kept much of its activity, and its member list, secret over the years, but the new complaint, filed with the U.S. District Court in Northern California on June 6, shines a light on how the camp allegedly operates.

The lawsuit claims that the camp hosts three events every year: the Spring Jinx, the Spring Picnic and the Summer Encampment. Bohemian Grove itself is split into over 100 separate camps, some named in the complaint, including the Camels Camps, the Last Chance camps and Monastery Camp.

“Monastery Camp is one of the most prestigious and well-known camps at Bohemian Grove,” the complaint reads. “Attendees include Bohemian Club members that are executives of Fortune 500 companies and prominent government officials.”

Instagram is owned by Facebook and it seems they are a marketplace for the demonic

<https://dig.watch/updates/how-facebook-and-instagram-became-marketplaces-for-child-sex-traffickers#:~:text=The%20investigation%20found%20that%20Facebook,year%20investigation%20by%20the%20Guardian.>

How Facebook and Instagram became marketplaces for child sex-traffickers

Tech giants are struggling to prevent criminals from using their platforms to buy and sell children for sex, according to a two-year investigation by the Guardian. The investigation found that Facebook and Instagram have become major selling platforms for child trafficking.

Meta admits traffickers use its platforms but insists it does all it can to stop them. By law, the company must report to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) any images of child sexual abuse shared on its platforms.

However, unlike child sexual abuse images, there is no legal requirement to report child sex trafficking. As a result, NCMEC must rely on all social media companies to proactively seek out and report child sex trafficking. This legal inconsistency – the fact that child sexual abuse images must be registered, but there is no legal requirement to report child sex trafficking – is a significant problem, according to Staca Shehan, Vice President of the Analytical Services Division at NCMEC.

They have no problem de-platforming a president, shadow banning whistleblowers, canceling Christians, but perverts are celebrated and allowed to do these things.

<https://www.israeltoday.co.il/read/muslims-again-admit-jewish-temples-stood-on-temple-mount/>

UPDATE: Muslims Again Admit Jewish Temples Stood on Temple Mount

Long before the Dome of the Rock and Al Aqsa Mosque, the Jewish Temple dominated Jerusalem's skyline. And a new photo book confirms it.

One of the cornerstones of the Palestinian narrative is that the Jews have no real history in the Land of Israel, and in particular on Jerusalem's Temple Mount. They use this lie to foment unrest by claiming the "Zionist occupiers" are trying to "Judaize" what has only ever been a Muslim holy site.

Those who believe the Bible is accurate know this to be a bald-faced lie.

The book's principle author Bashar Tabah contacted us about this article, suggesting it was not his intention to validate Jewish historical claims to the Temple Mount.

Tabah insisted that his book only mentions the historical presence of Jewish temples in the city of Jerusalem, not on the Temple Mount itself. Of course, from a historical point of view, that dismissal is entirely nonsensical. Archaeology confirms that in ancient times the city of Jerusalem occupied a very small area, with Mount Moriah as its high point, and the only part of the city that could support a structure so large as the Temple described in the Bible.

In his email to us, Tabah went on to claim that there is no archaeological evidence of a Jewish temple on the Temple Mount, a bald-faced lie that ignores decades of archaeological research, much of which can be found at the Davidson Center just outside the Temple Mount. But we're guessing Tabah didn't bother to visit and examine all of the evidence.

<https://www.jns.org/israel-news/temple-mount/23/6/8/293752/>

Amit Halevi's plan would give Muslims control of the southern end of the Temple Mount complex, which contains the Al-Aqsa mosque, while Jews would receive the central and northern areas.

<https://www.jpost.com/science/article-746411>

Scientists successfully create synthetic human fetus

The synthetic fetus is not likely to be used in the near future because of the ethical and moral issues associated with it.

Scientists created synthetic human fetuses using stem cells in a groundbreaking step that circumvents the need for an egg or sperm.

The scientists said that these fetuses, which are like fetuses in the earliest stages of human development, can teach about the effect of genetic disorders and biological causes of recurring miscarriages. Still, their existence raises serious ethical and legal issues because there is no legislation regarding the entities that were grown in a lab in most of the world's countries currently.

It's important to note that the fetuses have no beating heart or the beginning of a brain, but they do include the cells that generally would go on to create the placenta and the baby itself.