Uncensored: Reverend Munther Isaac

How does the government of Israel treat Christians? In the West, Christian leaders don't seem interested in knowing the answer. They should be. Here's the view of a pastor from Bethlehem.

Tucker Carlson's 'pastor from Bethlehem' is 'the high priest of antisemitic Christianity'

Munther Isaac justified Oct. 7 attack and is on the board of an organization calling Judaism a 'dead letter'

When Tucker Carlson said he wanted to know how the government of Israel treats Christians, he opted against interviewing Israeli Christians, choosing instead to speak to a Palestinian Christian pastor who founded an anti-Israel organization and justified Hamas' Oct. 7 attack on Israel.

Munther Isaac, the pastor featured in a 40-minute interview with Carlson that aired on X on Tuesday, gave a sermon on Oct. 8, 2023, in which he said the attack — a day prior — in which 1,200 Israelis were slaughtered by Hamas was a logical outcome. "What is happening is an embodiment of the injustice that has befallen us as Palestinians from the Nakba until now," Isaac said in the sermon, using the Arabic word for "catastrophe," that Palestinians use to mark the creation of Israel in 1948 and displacement of some 750,000 Palestinians. "Frankly, anyone following the events was not surprised by what happened yesterday... One of the scenes that left an impression on my mind yesterday, and there are many scenes, is the scene of the Israeli youth who were celebrating a concert in the open air [the Nova music festival] just outside the borders of Gaza, and how they escaped. What a great contradiction, between the besieged poor on the one hand, and the wealthy people celebrating as if there was nothing behind the wall. Gaza exposes the hypocrisy of the world."

A VISIT TO “CHRIST AT THE CHECKPOINT CONFERENCE”

Tom's Perspectives

by Thomas Ice

The leaders of the conference claim to be Evangelicals, yet their Manifesto includes the following points:

1. The Kingdom of God has come. Evangelicals must reclaim the prophetic role in bringing peace, justice and reconciliation in Palestine and Israel.
3. Racial ethnicity alone does not guarantee the benefits of the Abraham Covenant.
5. Any exclusive claim to land of the Bible in the name of God is not in line with the teaching of scripture.
9. For Palestinian Christians, the occupation is the core issue of the conflict.

Tucker Carlson highlights alleged mistreatment of Christians in Israel, ignores rising Christian population

In many Muslim countries of the Middle East, the Christian population has been decimated. In Israel, it is rising. Yet Tucker Carlson decides to hit Israel, not any of the Muslim lands where Christians are being persecuted. He is reflecting the noxious spirit of the age.

“Israel’s Christian population is growing, says Central Bureau of Statistics,” by Maayan Jaffe-Hoffman, Jerusalem Post, December 23, 2023:

As Israeli Christians belonging to Western church denominations prepare to celebrate Christmas on Sunday night and Monday, the Central Bureau of Statistics has released data on the country’s Christian community.

According to the CBS, around 187,900 Christians live in Israel, composing 1.9% of the population. This represents 1.3% growth from the year before. ***

The Christian population has been on the rise for at least the last two years. In 2021, the population grew by 1.4% to 182,000, and in 2022, there was about 2% growth to 185,000, according to the CBS.

Three-quarters (75.3%) are Arab Christians who make up 6.9% of the total Arab population.

This contrasts with most countries in the Middle East, where Christian populations are declining, and there is “horrible growth” of Christian persecution. This is according to the organization Open Doors, which puts out an annual “World Watch List” of where Christians suffer very high or extreme levels of persecution and discrimination for their faith....

Nearly Half of U.S. Muslims, Like U.K. Muslims, Support Hamas in War

A recent poll by the Pew Research Center shows that nearly half of Muslims in the U.S. support the Hamas terrorist group in its war against Israel — a similar proportion to that found in a different poll of Muslims in the United Kingdom.

Tehran flooding Judea and Samaria with weapons, Iranian officials tell NYT
Why do you boast of your evil, brave fellow? Hashem's faithfulness never ceases.

As the Israel Defense Forces fight Hamas terrorists in the Gaza Strip, the Iranian regime continues to foment violence in Judea and Samaria by flooding the territory with weapons, The New York Times reported on Tuesday, citing officials in Washington, Jerusalem and Tehran.

Judea and Samaria saw a dramatic rise in terrorist attacks in 2023 compared to the previous year, with shootings reaching the highest level since the Second Intifada of 2000-05, according to Israeli military data.

The violence has continued to escalate since Hamas started a war with its murderous rampage across the northwestern Negev last year. Since Oct. 7, at least eight Israelis have been murdered in Judea and Samaria.

Iranian officials told the Times that Tehran had not singled out one particular terrorist organization it would support with firearms and ammunition, choosing instead to inundate the area with weapons.

The majority of the weapons smuggled into Judea and Samaria are small arms and assault rifles, analysts said. However, the U.S. and Israeli officials charged that the Islamic Republic is also smuggling advanced weaponry, including anti-tank missiles and rocket-propelled grenades.

Israeli nurse abducted on October 7 says she was kidnapped by Palestinian CIVILIANS who joined in the terror attack and sold her to Hamas

Speaking to French publication Le Point, she recalled her terrifying experience on October 7, which saw her home raided before she was kidnapped.

'They exploded plates, turned the house upside down and started a fire,' she told the weekly magazine. Two minutes later, the terrorists appeared in the bomb shelter built in her house. She hadn't closed the door.

'Those who barricaded themselves in the mamads died, because the terrorists shot through the doors and set them on fire,' she told Le Point.

She says she was covered in a sheet and driven in a golf cart to the border between Israel and Gaza before being transferred to a car, which took her to Khan Younes - southern Gaza's largest city from which the IDF withdrew its troops this weekend.

Margalit says she noticed that those who had kidnapped her were jubilant as she was driven to Gaza and there were cheers in Khan Younes from crowds there, she recalls.

'I saw elderly people, children taken hostage,' Margalit tells the magazine.

'The terrorists who captured me were civilians. They negotiated with Hamas to sell me. When they were paid, I was taken straight into a tunnel.'

Hamas Rejects Ceasefire Offer in Cairo

Hamas rejected the latest ceasefire proposal on Monday, according to senior officials in the terror organization as reported by multiple news outlets.

“We reject the latest Israeli proposals that the Egyptian side informed us of. The politburo met today and decided this,” Ali Baraka, who is responsible for the Hamas’s foreign relations, told Reuters.

Survivors of Supernova Massacre Gather for Trance, Therapy in Tel Aviv

Survivors of the October 7 terror attack at the Supernova music festival gathered Wednesday evening at a lakefront for trance music, group therapy, and an opportunity to reconnect with one another.

As 4,000 people — dancers, bartenders, and security personnel — watched the sunrise from the Re'im forest on that fateful Saturday, Hamas terrorists few across the Gaza border on paragliders or blew holes in the fence and entered on pickup trucks.

Several healing booths had been set up — a group therapy area, a booth for massage therapy, and even a tattoo parlor. Other people offer advice about going back to work, or starting school again — a challenge for many of the survivors.

'Death to America,' 'Death to Israel' chants pour out of Muslim protesters in Michigan on last day of Ramadan

Dearborn has become 'hotbed for hate,' according to 1 expert

Protesters in Dearborn, Michigan, shouted "Death to America" and "Death to Israel" during an International Al-Quds Day rally held in the town.

"Imam Khomeini, who declared the International Al-Quds Day, this is why he would say to pour all of your chants and all of your shouts upon the head of America," Tarek Bazzi, a Michigan-based activist associated with the Hadi institute, said in a video from the rally that was shared by the Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI).

The activist went on to quote Malcom X, who said the U.S. is "one of the rottenest countries that has ever existed on this Earth," while arguing to eliminate the entire American "system."

"It's not just Genocide Joe that has to go," Bazzi said, referring to President Biden. "It is the entire system that has to go. Any system that would allow such atrocities and such devilry to happen and would support it – such a system does not deserve to exist on God's Earth."

Bazzi then turned his attention to Israel, telling the audience that when "fools" ask them "if Israel has the right to exist," the chant "Death to Israel" is "the most logical chant shouted across the world today."

Blinken, in Eid Message, Links Palestinians to Uyghurs in Chinese Concentration Camps

Secretary of State Antony Blinken compared Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza to Uyghur Muslims forced into Chinese concentration camps in a statement marking the Islamic holiday of Eid al-Fitr on Wednesday.

His statement read:

As we near the end of the holy month of Ramadan, I wish Muslim communities everywhere Eid Mubarak and join in hopes for a safer and more peaceful world. As families and communities come together, we know they do so at a time when many Muslim communities worldwide are suffering. Our thoughts turn to the plight of Palestinians in Gaza and the West Bank, civilians in Syria, women suffering under the Taliban in Afghanistan, Uyghurs in the People's Republic of China, Rohingya in Burma and Bangladesh, and far too many others.

By implication, Israel — acting in self-defense against Palestinian terrorists who attacked it without provocation on October 7 — is like the Taliban, or the Chinese Communist Party, or governments that are persecuting Muslims.

US said to believe Iranian attack on Israel is imminent: 'Matter of when, not if'

Citing intel assessments, Bloomberg says strike could involve high-precision missiles and drones; top US general in Mideast reportedly to visit Israel to discuss threat from Iran

The United States believes a major Iranian attack on Israel is imminent and could happen in the coming days, according to a report Wednesday, as Iran reiterated its vow to retaliate for an alleged Israeli strike in Syria that killed two generals among several Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps officers.

Citing people familiar with US and Israeli intelligence assessments, Bloomberg reported Iran could launch strikes involving high-precision missiles and drones targeting military and government sites in Israel.

One of the people quoted in the report said it was a matter of when — not if — Tehran will attack Israel.

Hamas declares victory after Biden bullies Israel into withdrawing troops in Gaza Troop movements from Israel were notched as a win by Hamas as President Joe Biden's pressures helped advance the Islamist's talking points.

Placing politics at the forefront of policy, the administration's intent to placate terrorist sympathizers and their ilk saw the starkest swing in recent days as the accidental killing of seven aid workers was leveraged against Israel's counteroffensive.

While demands for a lasting ceasefire preceded talks in Egypt, reports of withdrawing forces from Gaza delighted locals who told Reuters, "It seems at the end it may be a happy Eid."

The reference to the next Muslim holiday, Eid al-Fitr, came from 55-year-old Imad Joudat whom the outlet reported was living in a tent in Rafah with his eight-member family. "The occupation withdrew forces from Khan Younis, the Americans are pressuring after some foreigners were killed and Egypt is holding a big round with the Americans, the Israelis, Hamas and Qatar. This time we are hopeful.”

Idaho: Radicalized 18-Year-Old Planned to Kill Christians and Attack Over 21 Churches on Behalf of ISIS (Video)

Federal authorities state that Alexander Mercurio purposefully plotted to carry out attacks on churches prior to the conclusion of Ramadan.

An 18-year-old Islamic convert from Coeur d’Alene, Idaho, has been arrested for allegedly planning a terrorist attack targeting churchgoers in his hometown on behalf of the Islamic State (ISIS), according to federal authorities. Alexander Scott Mercurio stands accused of attempting to provide material support and resources to ISIS, as well as pledging allegiance to the terrorist organization.

In addition to his allegiance to ISIS, Mercurio allegedly conspired to carry out attacks on individuals at over 21 churches in Coeur d’Alene on a Sunday using various weapons, including knives, guns, and fire, as revealed in a statement by the Justice Department.

Growing AI Surveillance Network In California Sign Of Things To Come

If you're not a criminal then you have nothing to hide, right? This is the perpetual argument used in favor of state mass surveillance throughout history. It's the underlying justification at the birth of every surveillance agency from the Soviet Cheka to the German Stasi and beyond. Don't commit crimes and "you have nothing to worry about."

Of course, this argument requires the public to overlook a simple and universal truth - That which is legal today can be made illegal tomorrow, and the people who make these decisions are often not good people. With the ability to track and trace the behavior and movements of the citizenry in real time, the temptation to abuse that technology to increase government power is exponential. That is to say, mass surveillance tends to inspire governments to abuse their authority and treat people like criminals even when they are innocent.

We have seen how far our governments are willing to go to go to secure greater power over the populace; they have proven they're not trustworthy enough to handle unilateral oversight. With real-time AI based surveillance in place the dangers are far greater. Across the country there has been a quiet rollout of a new algorithm driven camera network from a company called Flock Safety.

Flock offers AI integrated cameras with off-grid options (solar) that they say are meant primarily for license plate reading and vehicle identification. California Governor Gavin Newsom recently applauded the creation of a new 480-camera network from Flock that will ostensibly focus on the Oakland metro area.

Secretive Experiment To Shoot Aerosols Into The Sky Over San Francisco To Increase Cloud Cover

secretive project conducted from the deck of an aircraft carrier in the San Francisco Bay will shoot trillions of aerosol particles into the sky to increase cloud cover in the name of preventing global warming, and details have been held back to “avoid (a) public backlash.”

The experiment is being dubbed America’s “first outdoor test to limit global warming.”

“The Coastal Atmospheric Aerosol Research and Engagement, or CAARE, project is using specially built sprayers to shoot trillions of sea salt particles into the sky in an effort to increase the density — and reflective capacity — of marine clouds,” reports Scientific American.

“The experiment is taking place, when conditions permit, atop the USS Hornet Sea, Air & Space Museum in Alameda, California, and will run through the end of May, according to a weather modification form the team filed with federal regulators.”

The report notes that there is little data on the potential negative effects of such geoengineering projects and that they “could also harm communities and ecosystems in unexpected ways.”

Shuchi Talati, the executive director of the Alliance for Just Deliberation on Solar Geoengineering, remarked how the test had been “kept under wraps” with little public engagement whatsoever.

‘Designed To Stop Free Speech’: New Scotland Hate Crime Law Sparks Outcry

A new “hate crime” law came into effect April 1 in Scotland that many believe poses an inherent threat to free speech.

The Hate Crime and Public Order (Scotland) Act 2021 has created a new criminal offense of “stirring up hatred” against individuals due to one or more of certain protected characteristics: age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, transgender identity or variations in sex characteristics (intersex individuals).

“The law seems to be designed to stop free speech and impose the LGBTQ agenda on all of Scotland,” Franklin Graham posted on Facebook.

On April 1, hundreds of protesters gathered outside the Scottish Parliament to protest the law and its potential effects on free speech.

Police ‘overwhelmed’ by thousands of hate crime complaints under new Scottish law

‘There’s no let up,’ says leading police figure – as officers take on overtime and backroom staff are pulled in to wade through thousands of reports

Police officers are “overwhelmed” by the deluge of hate crime complaints made during the first week of Scotland’s controversial new law.

There have been thousands of reports since the legislation kicked in on Monday – with no sign of the pace slowing down.

David Kennedy, general secretary of the Scottish Police Federation (SPF), which represents rank and file officers, said he had been told there were between 3,000 and 4,000 complaints in the first 48 hours.
