President Donald J. Trump Secures Historic Deals with China, Delivering for American Workers, Farmers, and Industry

This week, during the first visit of a U.S. President to the People's Republic of China since 2017, President Donald J. Trump reached consensus with President Xi Jinping on several issues that will enhance stability and confidence for businesses and consumers around the world.

These top U.S. CEOs, worth nearly $1 trillion combined, are accompanying Trump to China

President Trump arrived in China alongside a delegation of billionaire U.S. executives, including Tesla CEO Elon Musk and Nvidia CEO Jensen Huang, underscoring the high stakes for American companies as Washington and Beijing negotiate over trade, artificial intelligence and the Iran war.

The executives — whose combined net worth approaches $1 trillion — lead companies with major business interests in China, despite years of trade disputes between the world's two largest economies.

Additional U.S. business leaders who are traveling to Beijing include Blackstone CEO Stephen Schwarzman, with a net worth of $47.5 billion, and Apple CEO Tim Cook, whose fortune stands at $2.9 billion.

Other executives expected to attend include Boeing CEO Kelly Ortberg, BlackRock CEO Larry Fink, and Meta President and Vice Chair Dina Powell McCormick, according to The Associated Press.

Mr. Trump said in the same post that he plans to ask Chinese President Xi Jinping "to 'open up' China so that these brilliant people can work their magic, and help bring the People's Republic to an even higher level!"

Vladimir Putin's turn with Xi Jinping

Hosting back-to-back visits by Putin and Trump, China shows its power

For xi jinping, a leader who aspires to place China at the centre of world affairs, it was a triumphant week of diplomacy. Just four days after Donald Trump concluded a visit to Beijing, looking for business deals and help with Iran, Vladimir Putin turned up, seeking assistance for his war in Ukraine. Russia's president, like America's, lavished praise on his host and left with a clutch of agreements. But like Mr Trump's, the deals were short on detail.

Trump says Netanyahu will do "whatever I want" on Iran, and he's "in no hurry" to make a deal

What to know about the Iran war:

President Trump said Wednesday that Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu will do "whatever I want him to do" on Iran. Mr. Trump also said he's "in no hurry" to make a deal to end the war.

Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps has threatened to push the war "beyond the region" if the U.S. or Israel resume attacks, promising "crushing blows ... in places you cannot even imagine."

The threat comes after President Trump said he had been "an hour away" from ordering new strikes on Iran Monday evening before Persian Gulf allies asked him not to go ahead with the plans, citing progress in peace talks.

Iran reviews US proposal to end war as Pakistan steps up mediation efforts
Pakistan military chief Asim Munir to travel to Tehran for talks, according to Iranian media reports.

Tehran says it is reviewing the latest responses from the United States to its proposal to end the nearly three-month US-Israel war on Iran as mediator Pakistan steps up efforts to achieve progress in the talks that US President Donald Trump has warned are on the "borderline" between a deal and renewed strikes.

Ministry of Foreign Affairs spokesperson Esmail Baghaei said late on Wednesday that the Iranians have "received US views and are reviewing them", according to the Iranian state agency Nour News.

Vatican clarifies honour given to Iranian ambassador

The Holy See has clarified that a papal honour awarded to Iran's ambassador to the Vatican was part of a routine diplomatic ceremony for 13 ambassadors, after Iranian media reports presented it as a special gesture by Pope Leo XIV.

Mohammad Hossein Mokhtari, Iran's ambassador to the Holy See, was among the diplomats who received the title of Knight or Dame Grand Cross of the Order of Pius IX on May 12. Vatican News said the honours were presented to ambassadors who had completed two years of service as representatives to the Holy See.

Texas Dem’s vow to castrate Zionists highlights anti-Israel turmoil in US politics

Congressional candidate’s call to imprison ‘American Zionists’ draws outrage from other Democrats, as lines continue to blur between right and left, Israel criticism and antisemitism

Galindo won a primary in March in Texas’s 35th Congressional District, around San Antonio, with 29% of the vote, beating her rival, Johnny Garcia, who had 27%. The party’s candidacy will be decided in a runoff election next week.

Her campaign made the vow to imprison Zionists in an Instagram post last week that circulated widely on Tuesday.

“She’ll turn Karnes ICE Detention Center into a prison for American Zionists and former ICE officers for human trafficking. (It will also be a castration processing center for pedophiles which will probably be most of the Zionists),” the campaign said.

In other recent statements, Galindo railed against “Zionist billionaire Jews,” blamed Israel for immigration enforcement in the US, demanded treason charges against politicians linked to Israel, and said that Zionists control the media.

California takes girl after parents oppose 'gender transition,' moves to put her up for adoption

'I want to see them in jail,' a Christian mother said about California officials separating her from her gender-confused daughter, who she says was 'secretly indoctrinated' by her school.

California seized a Christian woman's teenage daughter for opposing her "gender transition," and now the state is moving to put the girl up for adoption.

Alexandra Lyashchenko, an Orthodox Christian and legal Ukrainian immigrant, lost custody of her then-15-year-old daughter in 2024 after rejecting her "sudden desire to transition."

Sacramento security guard arrested after deadly shooting during burglary

A security guard who fatally shot one burglary suspect and wounded another earlier this month has been arrested following an investigation, Sacramento police said.

The shooting occurred on May 8 after 4:30 a.m. Police said they got reports of a burglary at a business in the 8500 block of Thys Court off Florin Perkins Road. Officers then got additional calls about the sounds of shots being fired.

"This gentleman who has never committed a crime in his life, who is a retired former military, served the armed forces, found himself in a situation where his life was in danger and any reasonable person would have acted like he did and felt like lethal force was necessary," said Allen Sawyer, the attorney for the security guard, Joseph Mills.

His attorney said that he acted in self-defense.

"This is a locked, secure facility that these armed robbers penetrated the security forces and broke in and came upon a lone security guard by himself. Nine individuals against one," Sawyer said. "It's tragic anybody died, anybody was injured. But this was not a situation created by the security guard. He was doing his job, and his life was in danger."

‘De-Extinction’ Company Says It Hatched Chicks From Artificial Eggs, Paving the Way for Resurrecting Dodos and Other Bygone Birds

Colossal Biosciences announced that 26 live baby chickens have emerged from 3D-printed honeycomb structures. But the company does not plan to detail the system in a paper, and its mission has faced criticism

Scientists with the “de-extinction” company Colossal Biosciences say they have successfully hatched live chicks from artificial eggshells, which they claim is an important step toward their controversial goal of resurrecting extinct bird species like the dodo and the South Island giant moa.

On May 19, the Texas-based biotech company announced that 26 live baby chickens hatched from 3D-printed honeycomb structures designed to mimic eggshells. Colossal Biosciences leaders say the system could eventually be scaled up to accommodate extinct bird species that produce much larger eggs.

“DIFFERENT FLOWS OF TIME ALL EXIST AT THE SAME MOMENT”: SCIENTISTS CLAIM TRAPPED-ION ATOMIC CLOCKS CAN OBSERVE “QUANTUM SUPERPOSITION OF TIME”

An international team of researchers has demonstrated a theoretical framework showing that state-of-the-art trapped-ion atomic clocks could be tuned to a sensitivity precise enough to measure the quantum superposition of time, in which different flows of time exist simultaneously at the quantum level.

The researchers behind the framework said the next step will be to prove their concept experimentally. If successful, they suggest that trapped-ion atomic clocks could potentially help unravel physics’ other fundamental question: the elusive nature of gravity.

“We found that the atomic clock’s motion becomes ‘entangled’ with its internal energy,” Professor Foo explained. “The signature of this entanglement is that the clock itself loses some of its quantum properties, which can be detected using modern techniques.”

A former CIA scientist has claimed that there are several alien species the US government secretly knows about.

Dr Hal Puthoff, a physicist and electrical engineer who worked on the intelligence community's psychic spy and UFO research programs in the 1970s and 1980s, said people who have recovered crashed UFOs encountered 'at least four separate types' of life.

Those species have been previously discussed by physicist Dr Eric Davis, known for his work on top-secret Pentagon projects, who testified in Congress that 'Grays, Nordics, Insectoids, and Reptilians' are potential operators of unidentified craft.

Davis described these entities as humanoid, approximately human-sized, and possibly linked to classified reverse-engineering programs allegedly taking place around the world, which US officials described as a new Cold War.

Speaking on Steve Bartlett's The Diary of a CEO podcast last week, Puthoff said: 'There are at least four types. Four separate types. Now, I have not had direct access to that, but I believe the people I talked to. Four different types of life, at least.'

The Grays are the classic four-foot-tall creatures with large heads and enormous, almond-shaped black eyes, while Nordics are said to closely resemble extremely tall humans from Scandinavia, with blond hair, blue eyes and fair skin.

Reptilians may be the most infamous of the alien races mentioned, as this giant species has been alleged to look like serpents but walk like humans, and have the ability to shapeshift, sparking unproven claims from conspiracy theorists that these creatures regularly infiltrate human society.

Meanwhile, the Insectoids have been said to resemble giant mantis-like creatures with multiple limbs, an exoskeleton, mandibles and antennae.

Puthoff appeared on the May 14 podcast with filmmaker and director Dan Farah, who recently released the bombshell documentary The Age of Disclosure, which claimed that the US government has been covering up a massive UFO recovery operation since the 1940s.

Waymo driverless cars overrun Atlanta neighborhood, circling cul-de-sacs and alarming families with kids

The company also recalled nearly 4,000 vehicles this week over a glitch involving standing water

One Atlanta neighborhood has dealt with Waymo problems than they expected recently.

The Georgia city's northwest Buckhead neighborhood has been overrun in the last couple of weeks by empty, driverless ride-share vehicles due to an apparent routing behavior issue.

"It's almost every little cul-de-sac in our area, so I think it's a problem," a neighbor who lives on embattled Battleview Drive told WSB-TV.
