
WHAT'S NEXT

Part 1: Where to find courage and what to do next

1. Jason began this weekend talking about looking towards “what’s next”. Are you in a “what’s next” season right now? If so, how does looking towards what’s next make you feel? If not, do you remember a time you experienced a what’s next season?
2. We looked at the story of Joshua in the Old Testament. He needed courage that only comes from God in order to step into what God had for him next. Is there something you’re stepping into that you need that kind of courage? If you feel comfortable, share with some others and invite them into that journey with you.
3. Jesus didn’t give “the church” a mission, he gave you a mission. How does that statement settle with you? Do you feel like you’re on a mission? Why or why not?
4. Our mission is To Inspire People to Follow Jesus. What are some ways you could live that mission out this week where you live, work, play and learn?
