

better decisions, fewer regrets

Part 3 - January 17th

Discussion Questions

1. Can you identify a decision in the past that served as the beginning of a new and better chapter in the story of your life? What about a decision that introduced a chapter you would rather forget?
2. What was the catalyst for those decisions?
3. Do you know anyone whose story, through no fault of their own, set them up to write a story characterized by bitterness and resentment but decided their story in a healthy direction?
