

The background of the entire image is a photograph of a group of women and children walking along a wide, reddish-brown dirt road in a rural, arid landscape. The women are dressed in traditional African attire, including patterned skirts and headwraps. Some are carrying children on their backs. The road is flanked by dry, yellowish-brown grass and sparse trees. The scene is captured in a cinematic style with warm, golden-hour lighting.

“So the LORD our God handed King Og and all his people over to us, and we killed them all. Not a single person survived. We conquered all sixty of his towns—the entire Argob region in his kingdom of Bashan. Not a single town escaped our conquest. We had now conquered all the cities on the plateau...”

Don't let your possessions determine your mission

And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, "You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me." Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

Mark 10:19-20 ESV

The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly a map of Africa, with a subtle pattern of lines and shapes. The text is overlaid on this background.

"For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways," declares the LORD. "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts. As the rain and the snow come down from heaven, and do not return to it without watering the earth and making it bud and flourish, so that it yields seed for the sower and bread for the eater, so is my word that goes out from my mouth: It will not return to me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it.
