

SERMON NOTES

Community Group Questions

1. What is one thing that stood out to you from this week's message?
2. Sometimes psychologists use word association games to evaluate patients. They'll say a word, and the patient says the first thing that comes to mind. What would be the first word people might use to describe your words?
3. Why does what we say matter to God?
4. How might an out-of-control life and tongue hurt the faith? Is that fair?
5. Do you think words can shape the direction of your life? Why or why not?
6. If you're feeling really bold, take a moment to look through one another's social media feeds. Can you be "iron sharpening iron" and point one another to speech that is more truthful, fair, and respectful? If a brother or sister points out an area you need to work on, can you promise to pray and think about the correction and see what God might be trying to teach you?
7. If evaluating one another's social media feeds seems too confrontational for your group, ask your members to evaluate their own behavior online. Has it reflected Scripture's instruction about our words? Is there anyone to whom you need to apologize?
8. How can we pray for you?
