

“What’s In Session”

Your Session is excited about the many things that are happening at St. Andrew’s-Covenant Presbyterian Church, and we hope that you’ll join us in our excitement!

The Pastor Nominating Committee (PNC) has already done great work utilizing the “Listening Sessions” that were held in May. They have conferred with Emily Swanson from the Holy Cow consulting group about what our congregation’s wants and needs are for the future. The results from these sessions will be useful for both the PNC and for the session. Your PNC is making great progress toward the actual “search” for a new pastor. Meanwhile, if you have recommendations for them, they would love for you to contact them through their email at: PNC@SACPC.org.

We are also in the process of nominating Elders and Deacons for the Class of 2025. We have so many wonderful members in our church who are willing to serve if they are asked. Please prayerfully consider who you want to lead our church over the next few years and consider nominating them. The positions of Elder and Deacon require a willingness to serve and a love for our Lord. Nominations can be made through the church website by opening the “About” section and then following the link to the “Session” section. There are also nomination cards available in the pews and throughout the church.

We will begin our Summer Worship service this Sunday, June 5th. The session members have held conversations around comparing the many different schedules that we have enjoyed over the years during the summer. The times and format have been as different as the many years we could remember, but the consistent factor each summer has been quality worship. This year will be no different! We will have our worship service at 9:30 each Sunday in the sanctuary, and our music director, Cindy Litzinger, is working to provide a wonderful variety of music to assure that we continue to have excellent worship. Thanks be to God!

In addition to worship, the Session understands that Christian Education is a priority in the Presbyterian Church and particularly at SACPC. During this summer, a few Christian Education classes will continue to meet on their usual Sunday morning schedule, but just like in years past, most will take a summer break. When we return in the fall some Christian Education classes may take on a new look while others may remain the same. Perhaps members would like to have Bible study classes on Wednesday evenings after a churchwide meal. Or perhaps some members would like to have coffee and a Bible study at The Roastery (the coffee shop located in our next door block) on Tuesday mornings. Maybe the best way for some is to meet at noon on Fridays in the church library using a PC(USA) curriculum, or perhaps a group would like a Sunday morning lectionary study in a SACPC classroom. Our wonderful staff is looking at additional ways to enable our members to participate in educational opportunities. If you have an idea or suggestion or would consider leading a group please contact Sue McCaffray.

Lastly, Session members will begin calling all of our SACPC families this summer. We want to check in with you and see how you are doing. If you have thoughts or concerns please share them with your Session. We look forward to speaking with you and sharing in this fellowship time of conversation.
